Global Trend Gardening Tips:

Global Gardening Traditions: Diverse Perspectives on Cultivating the Earth Michael Cameron, Embark on a journey around the world with Global Gardening Traditions where readers will discover the rich tapestry of cultural approaches to gardening From the lush rice terraces of Bali to the structured flower gardens of France this book delves into the diverse traditions techniques and philosophies that shape gardening practices across different cultures Learn about the intimate connection between spirituality and gardening in Japan where zen gardens are meticulously designed to evoke a sense of peace and tranquility Explore the vibrant community gardens of Cuba where urban spaces are transformed into thriving hubs of agricultural diversity Uncover the ancient agricultural practices of Indigenous peoples in North America where sustainability and harmony with the land are central to their way of life Discover how gardening traditions are influenced by climate geography and history as seen in the thriving vineyards of Italy and the lush tea plantations of Sri Lanka Gain insight into the healing properties of plants in traditional herbal medicine gardens in Africa where centuries old remedies are still passed down through generations Through stunning photography and in depth cultural analysis Global Gardening Traditions celebrates the universal love for nature and the earth while showcasing the unique ways in which different societies interact with and nurture their natural surroundings This book is a testament to the artistry and dedication that lies at the heart of gardening uniting individuals from all corners of the globe in their shared passion for cultivating the beauty of the natural world

World Wide Weed Tom Decorte, 2016-02-11 For the majority of its history the cultivation of cannabis did not stand out at least compared to the cultivation of other illegal plants Cannabis plantations like coca bush or opium poppy plantations were typically large in size grown by local farmers in a handful of developing producing countries processed and then exported to industrial consuming nations While cocaine and heroin are still produced in a handful of developing countries cannabis cultivation is increasingly universal From Europe to the Americas and Oceania import substitution in cannabis markets has been noticed in almost every developed country around the world with a notable aversion for discrimination Geographical technological cultural and economic factors help to explain why indoor and outdoor domestic cultivation is well established and why the nature and extent of cultivation varies so dramatically across the western developed nations As we start the second decade of the 21st century the new cannabis industry continues to fascinate both casual and academic observers of the drug scene Researchers around the world have become increasingly interested in the phenomenon aiming to describe and potentially explain the rapid switch from importation to domestic production in their own countries In bringing together some of the world's leading experts on cannabis cultivation this book contains sixteen chapters that take an interdisciplinary look at global trends in cannabis cultivation It will serve as an exemplar for wider discussions of key theories and concepts relating to the spread not just of cannabis cultivation but also of illegal markets more generally the actors that operate within these markets and the policies and practices that are employed in response to developments within these markets
