Lensless Magneto-optic Speed Sensor ,1998 Lensless magneto optic speed sensor The construction of a viable Faraday sensor has been achieved Multimode fiber bundles are used to collect the light If coupled directly into a 100 or 200 μm core fiber light from a light emitting diode LED is sufficient to operate the sensor In addition LEDs ensure that no birefringence effects in the input fiber are possible as the output from such light sources have random polarization No lens is required since the large diameter optical fibers and thin crystals of materials having high Verdet constants such as iron garnets employed permit the collection of a substantial quantity of light No coupler is required The maximum amount of light which could reach a detector using a coupler is 25% while the measured throughput of the fiber optic bundle without a coupler is about 42% All of the elements employed in the present sensor are planar and no particular orientation of these elements is required The present sensor operates over a wide range of distances from magnetic field sources and observed signals are large When a tone wheel is utilized the signals are independent of wheel speed and the modulation is observed to be about 75% No sensitivity to bends in the input or output optical fiber leads was observed Reliable operation was achieved down to zero frequency or no wheel rotation
