2014 Grade 10 Geography Papers Johannesburg:

Urban Geography in South Africa Ruth Massey, Ashley Gunter, 2019-08-17 This book embraces South Africa and its place in the Global South providing a succinct theoretical and empirical analysis and discussion of urban issues in the country. There have been sporadic calls from the Urban Geography community for the development of an overarching and comprehensive text that explores contemporary processes and practices taking place in urban South Africa and more widely the Global South. This is an edited collection of chapters by leading urban theorists and practitioners working on various themes within urban South Africa and serves as a base for scholars and students interested in urban perspectives from countries in the Global South.

New Directions in South African Tourism Geographies Jayne M. Rogerson, Gustav Visser, 2019-09-26 This book provides an overview of innovative and new directions being chartered in South African tourism geographies. Within the context of global change the volume explores different facets and different geographies of tourism. Key themes under scrutiny include the sharing economy, the changing accommodation service sector, touring poverty, tourism and innovation, tourism and climate change, threats to sustainability, inclusive tourism, and a number of studies which challenge the present mindedness of much tourism geographical scholarship. The 18 chapters range across urban and rural landscapes in South Africa with sectoral studies which include adventure tourism, coastal tourism, cruise tourism, nature based tourism, sports tourism, and wine tourism. Finally, the volume raises a number of policy and planning issues in the global South, in particular relating to sustainability, local economic development, and poverty reduction. Outlining the impact of tourism expansion in South Africa and suggesting future research directions, this stimulating book is a valuable resource for geographers as well as researchers and students in the field of tourism studies.

The Geography of South Africa Jasper Knight, Christian M. Rogerson, 2018-10-03 This edited collection examines contemporary directions in geographical research on South Africa. It encompasses a cross section of selected themes of critical importance not only to the discipline of Geography in South Africa but also of relevance to other areas of the Global South. All chapters are original contributions providing a state of the art research baseline on key themes in physical, human, and environmental geography and in understanding the changing geographical landscapes of modern South Africa. These contributions set the scene for an understanding of the relationships between modern South Africa and the wider contemporary world, including issues of sustainable development and growth in the Global South.

Food Tourism and Regional Development C. Michael Hall, Stefan Gössling, 2016-05-26 Food tourism is a topic of increasing importance for many destinations. Seen as a means to potentially attract tourists and differentiate destinations and attractions by means of the association with particular products and cuisines, food is also regarded as an opportunity to generate added value from tourism through local agricultural systems and supply chains and the local food system. From a regional development perspective, this book goes beyond culinary tourism to also look at some of the ways in which the interrelationships between food and tourism contribute to the economic environmental and social wellbeing of destinations communities and producers It examines the way in which tourism and food can mutually add value for each other from the fork to the plate and beyond Looking at products e g cheese craft beer noodles wine attractions restaurants and events and diverse regional examples e g Champagne Hong Kong Jamaica Margaret River southern Sweden and Tuscany the title highlights how clustering networking and the cultural economy of food and tourism and foodscapes adds value for regions Despite the attention given to food wine and culinary tourism no book has previously directly focused on the contribution of food and tourism in regional development This international collection has contributors and examples from almost every continent and provides a comprehensive account of the various intersections between food tourism and regional development This timely and significant volume will inform future food and tourism development as well as regional development more widely and will be valuable reading for a range of disciplines including tourism development studies food and culinary studies regional studies geography and environmental studies

South African urban imaginaries: cases from Johannesburg Richard Ballard, Sandiswa Mapukata, 2022-06-01 How do government officials elected politicians powerful economic actors and ordinary people think and talk about the urban geography of South Africa How do they describe and represent change that is happening in cities towns and villages Do they consider these changes to be good or bad How do they think such places should change What do they do to try to bring about the changes they desire Competing answers to these questions have been at the centre of South Africa's urban development Through the 19th and 20th centuries white minority governments straddled quite contradictory imaginaries about who could build lives for themselves in urban areas and on what terms Ordinary people held their own urban imaginaries that were quite different to those of white minority governments and were core to the fight for democracy In the democratic era a range of official and popular imaginaries offer diverse visions on how South Africans should be transformed In an earlier collection produced under the GCRO Spatial Imaginaries project we explored the sometimes contradictory nature of post apartheid urban visions with for example with some promoting the creation of new urban settlements on greenfield sites and others attempting to densify and diversify long urbanised spaces Research Report 13 South African urban imaginaries Cases from Johannesburg is a second edited collection under the Spatial Imaginaries project and it uses a series of cases from Johannesburg that illustrate the interactions between urban imaginaries and the material city These cases include the depiction of central business districts in film as spaces of aspiration the way in which the imaginaries of developers in Hillbrow were shaped by the lives of those living there the imaginaries of Alexandra Renewal Project practitioners the way in which residents of Brixton understand diversity and the construction of two new bridges across the M1 to better connect Sandton and Alexandra

New Drivers of Division Ya Ping Wang, Keith Kintrea, David Everatt, Debolina Kundu, 2025-09-02 This open access book provides recent trends of urbanization and inequality in Africa and Asia It addresses the inequality challenges of urbanization and large scale rural to urban migration It answers questions around socio economic and spatial inequalities and how serious those are in cities in Africa and Asia under 21st century urbanization Chapters demonstrate how the old neighborhood division in cities based on race ethnicity religion apartheid tribes caste and migrant are replaced by social class through sorting in the housing market The analyses go beyond the normal income inequality consideration and take a broader perspective on inequality by considering these issues at the neighborhood level to reveal the new spatial divisions in cities As such it is essential reading for academics and students in urban studies sociology geography planning and policymakers working on urban development around the world Urban Renewal, Community and Participation Julie Clark, Nicholas Wise, 2018-05-02 This edited collection investigates the human dimension of urban renewal using a range of case studies from Africa Asia Europe India and North America to explore how the conception and delivery of regeneration initiatives can strengthen or undermine local communities Ultimately aiming to understand how urban residents can successfully influence or manage change in their own communities contributing authors interrogate the complex relationships between policy planning economic development governance systems history and urban morphology Alongside more conventional methods analytical approaches include built form analysis participant observation photographic analysis and urban labs Appealing to upper level undergraduate and masters students academics and others involved in urban renewal the book offers a rich combination of theoretical insight and empirical analysis contributing to literature on gentrification the right to the city and community participation in neighbourhood change

The Tea Party, Occupy Wall Street, and the Great Recession Nils C. Kumkar, 2018-03-21 This book analyzes the Tea Party and Occupy Wall Street as symptoms of the structural crisis of US capitalism and its class structure It shows that the protests have to be understood as rooted in the petty bourgeoisie's lived experience of crisis which also plays a crucial role in current political developments like the successful presidential campaign of Donald Trump The book explains the Great Recession as an acute phase of the structural crisis of the finance dominated accumulation regime identifies the social classes from which the core participants of the respective protests recruited themselves and the socioeconomic developments to which they were exposed in the years leading up to the protests and interprets interviews and group discussions conducted with activists to reconstruct the habitus that structured both their experience of the crisis and their resonance with the respective protest practices It thereby provides an encompassing understanding of the social logics not only of these social movements but of the current political conjuncture in the US

Motherhood in Johannesburg: Mapping the experiences and moral geographies of women and their children in the city Alexandra Parker, Margot Rubin, 2017-11-30 South African cities were designed and legislated to enforce spatial marginalisation of Africans coloureds and Indians to peripheral urban settlements The legacy of this intentionally constructed racially segregated space has been reinforced in the post apartheid period by market forces around property prices informal settlement of land and the unintended consequences of state housing policy amongst other factors Patterns of race based spatial marginalisation have also been overlaid by income and gender factors creating hostile conditions for women and poor women in particular Whilst there is a rich mine of literature on spatial exclusions due to race very little study has focused on the gendered spatial experiences of women and more particularly mothers in South African cities Mothers sustain a number of multifaceted roles through and beyond the care of and provision for their children They engage in multiple spheres of work home education community and politics Straddling these various realms mothers are increasingly active users of a diversity of city spaces In some cases the daily routines of mothers are confined within a single neighbourhood but most often mothers enact their many roles on a day to day basis in many different areas of the city The nature of motherhood as both a relationship of care and a role constructed in society and highly unequal urban conditions often impose heavy burdens financial temporal and emotional However the choices mothers make in the city by traversing diverse spaces in order to fulfil their multiple roles and the responsibilities and costs this inflicts is not well understood This Occasional Paper speaks to this gap by exploring the spatial dynamics of mothers in Johannesburg It investigates how women who self identify as mothers navigate their own and their families daily lives in the city in facing a variety of challenges and obstacles Methodologically the research involved studying the everyday practices and experiences of 25 mothers in the city who agreed to in depth interviews and mapping exercises The participants were a diverse group in terms of geographic location income race age and family situation The women narrated their daily lives and the routes they took through various places and spaces that made up their everyday experiences of the city They discussed their decision making around the choice of home work school shopping and recreation and detailed the social and spatial dynamics of their support networks Exploring these moral geographies of motherhood provides valuable insights into a group of people who engage the city extensively in ways that are under recognised In turn understanding the spatial negotiations that typify mothers lives exposes the depth of spatial inequality and poor urban management of our city region in new ways This Occasional Paper is the result of a partnership between the South African Research Chair in Spatial Analysis and City Planning SA CP and the GCRO and specifically involved a collaboration between researchers Yasmeen Dinath Margot Rubin and Alexandra Parker The insights presented here reflect results from a first phase of research that will be deepened through a larger study in 2018

Socio-Spatial Small Town Dynamics in South Africa Ronnie Donaldson, 2023-07-14 This book explores small town geographical aspects by approaching them from a socio spatial perspective The contributions included in this book delve into a range of topics that have not been commonly studied before such as white privilege neglect of municipal infrastructure collaborative governance livelihoods in small scale fisheries housing provision well being in mining towns studentification in rural contexts election trends and the historical development of small town spas The book adopts a socio spatial point of view providing a holistic understanding of the interplay between social and spatial factors within selected small town case studies This approach sheds light on the socio economic political and cultural dynamics that shape small towns This localized perspective allows for a more targeted analysis of issues and potential solutions taking into account the specific historical cultural and political contexts of small town South Africa The edited volume serves as a valuable resource for academics policymakers practitioners and anyone interested in understanding and improving small towns in South Africa

Commonplace Diversity: Social Relations in a Super-Diverse Context Susanne Wessendorf, 2014-11-03 Drawing on in depth ethnographic fieldwork Wessendorf explores life in a super diverse urban neighbourhood The book presents a vivid account of the daily doings and social relations among the residents and how they pragmatically negotiate difference in their everyday lives Higher Education - Reflections From the Field - Volume 4, 2023-11-02 COVID wrought havoc on the world s economic systems Higher education did not escape the ravages brought on by the pandemic as institutions of higher education around the world faced major upheavals in their educational delivery systems Some institutions were prepared for the required transition to online learning Most were not Whether prepared or not educators rose to the challenge The innovativeness of educators met the challenges as digital learning replaced the face to face environment In fact some of the distance models proved so engaging that many students no longer desire a return to the face to face model As with all transitions some things were lost while others were gained This book examines practice in the field as institutions struggled to face the worst global pandemic in the last century The book is organized into four sections on Embracing Quality Assurance Educational Standards and Quality Assurance Evaluating Educational Access and Why Assessment It presents various perspectives from educators around the world to illustrate the struggles and triumphs of those facing new challenges and implementing new ideas to empower the educational process These discussions shed light on the impact of the pandemic and the future of higher education post COVID Higher education has been forever changed and higher education as it once was may never return While many questions arise the achievements in meeting and overcoming the pandemic illustrate the creativity and innovativeness of educators around the world who inspired future generations of learners to reach new heights of accomplishment even in the face of the pandemic Race for Education Mark Hunter, 2019-01-24 An examination of families and schools in South Africa revealing how the marketisation of schooling works to uphold the privilege of whiteness

Making Public in a Privatized World David A. McDonald, 2016-02-15 How do we provide effective public services in a deeply neoliberal world In the wake of the widespread failure of privatisation efforts societies in the global south are increasingly seeking progressive ways of recreating the public sector With contributors ranging from cutting edge scholars to activists working in health water and energy provision and with case studies covering a broad spectrum of localities and actors Making Public in a Privatized World uncovers the radically different ways in which public services are being reshaped from the grassroots up From communities holding the state accountable for public health in rural Guatemala to waste pickers in India and decentralized solar electricity initiatives in Africa the essays in this collection offer probing insights into the complex ways in which people are building genuine alternatives to privatization while also illustrating the challenges which communities face in creating public services which are not subordinated to the logic of the market or to the monolithic state entities of the past South African Urban Change Three Decades After Apartheid Anthony Lemon, Ronnie Donaldson, Gustav Visser, 2021-06-10 This book provides an analysis of South African urban change over the past three decades It draws on a seminal text Homes Apart and revisits conclusions drawn in that collection that marked the final phases of urban apartheid It highlights changes in demography social as well as economic structure and their differential spatial expression across a range of urban sites in South Africa The evidence presented in this book points to a very complex set of narratives in urban South Africa and one that cannot be reduced to a singular statement so the conclusions of the various investigations are in many ways open As urban apartheid represented one clear outcome its post apartheid urban legacies varies greatly from city to city As such this book is a great resource to students and academics focused on urban change in South African cities since the demise of apartheid and scholars of urban policy making in South Africa and Southern urbanists generally Just faith Stephan de Beer, 2018-12-01 The purpose of this scholarly book is to expand the body of knowledge available on urban theology It introduces readers to the concept of planetary urbanisation with the view of deepening an understanding of urbanisation and its all pervasive impact on the planet people and places from a theological perspective A critical theological reading of the urban is also provided deliberating on bridging the divide between voices from the Global South and the Global North In doing so this book simultaneously seeks out robust and dynamic faith constructs expressed in various forms and embodiments of justice The methodology chosen transcended narrow disciplinary boundaries situating reflections between and across disciplines in the interface between scholarly reflection and an activist faith as well as between local rootedness and global connectedness This was facilitated by the collected gathering of authors spanning all continents various Christian faith traditions and multiple disciplines as well as a range of methodological approaches The book endeavours to contribute to knowledge production in a number of ways Firstly it suggests the inadequacy of most dominant faith expressions in the face of all pervasive forces of urbanisation and it also provides clues as to the possibility of fostering potent alternative imaginaries Secondly it explores a decolonial faith that is expressed in various forms of justice It is an attempt to offer concrete embodiments of what such a faith could look like in the context of planetary urbanisation Thirdly the book does not focus on one specific urban challenge or mode of ministry but rather introduces the concept of planetary urbanisation and then offers critical lenses with which to interrogate its consequences and challenges It considers concrete and liberating faith constructs in areas ranging from gender race economic inequality a solidarity economics and housing to urban violence indigeneity and urbanisation the interface between economic and environmental sustainability and grass roots theological education Vocabularies for an Urbanising Planet: Theory Building through Comparison Christian Schmid, Monika Streule, 2023-10-04 Cartography as an instrument for the analysis of urbanisation processes The speed scale and scope of urbanisation have increased dramatically in recent decades To decipher the rapidly changing urban territories across the planet we need a radical shift in the analytical perspective on urbanisation

In this book a transdisciplinary international research team presents an expanded vocabulary of urbanisation processes through a comparison of Tokyo Hong Kong Shenzhen Dongguan Kolkata Istanbul Lagos Paris Mexico City and Los Angeles Based on a novel cartography and on detailed ethnographic and historical explorations this book systematically analyses the diversity of responses to urgent contemporary urban challenges It proposes a series of new concepts that allow us to assess the practical consequences of different urban strategies in everyday life Essential book on urbanism New evaluation models for urbanisation processes Comprehensive analyses and illustrations of the urban patterns of international metropolises Comparison of urbanisation processes in eight metropolises around the world Middle Classes in Africa Lena Kroeker, David O'Kane, Tabea Scharrer, 2018-02-19 This volume challenges the concept of the new African middle class with new theoretical and empirical insights into the changing lives in Sub Saharan Africa Diverse middle classes are on the rise but models of class based on experiences from other regions of the world cannot be easily transferred to the African continent Empirical contributions drawn from a diverse range of contexts address both African histories of class formation and the political roles of the continent's middle classes and also examine the important interdependencies that cut across inter generational urban rural and class divides This thought provoking book argues emphatically for a revision of common notions of the middle class and for the inclusion of insights from the South into the global debate on class Middle Classes in Africa will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of disciplines as well as NGOs and policy makers with an interest in African societies Safari Nation Jacob S. T. Dlamini, 2020-04-22 Safari Nation opens new lines of inquiry in the study of national parks in Africa and the rest of the world The Kruger National Park is South Africa's most iconic nature reserve renowned for its rich flora and fauna According to author Jacob Dlamini there is another side to the park a social history neglected by scholars and popular writers alike in which blacks meaning Africans Coloureds and Indians occupy center stage Safari Nation details the ways in which black people devoted energies to conservation and to the park over the course of the twentieth century engagement that transcends the stock black figure of the laborer and the poacher By exploring the complex and dynamic ways in which blacks of varying class racial religious and social backgrounds related to the Kruger National Park and with the help of previously unseen archival photographs Dlamini's narrative also sheds new light on how and why Africa's national parks often derided by scholars as colonial impositions survived the end of white rule on the continent Relying on oral histories photographs and archival research Safari Nation engages both with African historiography and with ongoing debates about the land question democracy and citizenship in South Africa The Emerging Middle Class in Africa Mthuli Ncube, Charles Lufumpa, 2014-10-10 The emergence of the African middle class as a driver of Africa's economic growth stands out as an important milestone in Africa's contemporary economic history This growth though uneven is a source of hope for Africa but also a signal to the rest of the world on the prospects for economic recovery and renewal particularly because it has been steady despite the global downturn The Emerging Middle Class in Africa analyses specific aspects of the lives of the middle class in Africa It looks at how people become and remain in the middle class through a series of thematic chapters It examines how behaviour changes in the process in terms of consumption patterns and spending on health and education A further dimension of this analysis is how class impacts on gender relations and whether women are able to reap the same benefits of social advancement available to men Africa is a continent of such scale and diversity that experiences across countries vary widely The book thus captures the common patterns across the continent This text is primarily aimed at Africanist researchers policy makers development practitioners and bilateral and multilateral institutions as well as students of African studies political science political economy development studies and development economics
