UN Peacekeeping in Africa Kwame Akonor, 2016-11-17 This timely volume explores the dark side of United Nations UN Peacekeeping in Africa when rather than help establish a rule of law in the host country they become perpetrators of crime The work of the UN peacekeepers is generally comprised of police and military personnel from countries who contribute voluntarily to assist war torn countries create conditions for lasting peace Overall these peacekeeping efforts are perceived positively with volunteers giving their time and risking their lives to bring normalcy and peace to civilians in countries with conflict In fact there are cases where UN Peacekeepers are sometimes the victims of violent crimes and need security and protection themselves Although instances of abuse are not widespread and are certainly not isolated to Africa this work focuses on Africa because there is a high concentration of UN Peacekeepers there and lessons learned can be applied to other regions The instances of abuse cover serious crimes including sexual abuse and exploitation child and arms trafficking and corruption all of some of the most vulnerable populations in the world at the time Although these instances are not extensive they remain a fundamental problem because there is no existing mechanism for prosecution in the international area it is only the troops home country not the UN who has the right to exercise criminal jurisdiction The also undermine the good work that UN Peacekeepers are doing all over the world This work is concerned with highlighting why these instances occur and why specific forms of abuse are more prevalent than others It also discusses how to prevent abuse and violations from happening in the first place and creating a culture of change and accountability Finally taking into account cultural and legal systems from troops home countries the author considers the ways that local rules can be aligned with international standards In will be of interest to researchers in Criminology and Criminal Justice International Relations Sociology and Demography Public Health Comparative Law and other related disciplines

Values, Interests and Power: South African foreign policy in uncertain times Daniel D. Bradlow, Elizabeth Sidiropoulos, 2020-01-01 About the publication South Africa s foreign policy makers are facing a substantial challenge From the advent of the democratic era in 1994 through to the early 2000s South Africa was a highly respected actor in international affairs with a number of impressive accomplishments in the areas of global governance peacekeeping and international norm entrepreneurship However since that time the country s international standing has declined The value based and innovative foreign policy that earned the early post apartheid South African government such great international respect has been replaced by a more transactional and tactically driven approach to international affairs The country s position as Africa s leading economy and voice in international affairs is increasingly being challenged by other African states This book explores how South Africa can develop a foreign policy strategy that is appropriate to the uncertain times in which we live and that both helps the country address its overwhelming domestic challenges of poverty inequality and unemployment and regain its former high international reputation The contributors to this book offer analyses and proposals for developing such a strategy within the context of the country s constitutional order and institutional constraints and that addresses the diverse and complex global and regional aspects of the country's international relations. Endorsements: In this valuable book which should be on every diplomat's bookshelf, some of SA's foremost experts offer the government frank and compelling advice on how to conduct a much better foreign policy over the next decade. The authors challenge Pretoria to muster all the country's assets and skills and not just those of the ruling party to pursue only the most important foreign policy goals. And to be guided always by the lodestar of the Constitution. Peter Fabricius, Foreign Policy Analyst, former Foreign Affairs Editor at Independent Newspapers. In this one of a kind book of twelve chapters, by emerging and experienced scholars, the authors probe into factors shaping South African foreign policy, lessons learned and the future strategy of the country's foreign policy in an ever-changing world. A compelling read for policy makers and scholars. Ambassador Prof Iqbal Jhazbhay, University of South Africa, Member of the ANC's NEC, International Relations Sub-Committee. Its breadth will engage newcomers; its insights will be useful to scholars and practitioners alike. Professor Amrita Narlikar, President, German Institute for Global and Area Studies, GIGA. This book offers compelling insights on South Africa's foreign policy. These varied pieces provide textured and critical perspectives that may help open up an avenue to re-imagine South Africa's foreign policy afresh in the post-Zuma years. It is a compendium that should appeal to scholars of international relations, practitioners of foreign policy and the broader policy community. Professor Mzukiso Qobo, Head, School of Governance, University of the Witwatersrand. This nuanced and richly detailed volume offers the reader superb analyses of South Africa's foreign policy. The authors' contributions present both theoretical considerations and specific policy recommendations which make the book highly useful for both scholars and policy makers. Each chapter is thus certain to significantly contribute to promoting the public debate about South Africa's place in the world. Professor Oliver Stuenkel, Fundaç o Get lio Vargas, FGV. Wilhelm-Solomon, 2022-07-01 Shortlisted for the 2023 Sunday Times Literary Awards One of the best works of narrative non fiction to emerge from the country in years Quite simply brilliant NIREN TOLSI Amid evictions raids killings the drug trade and fire inner city Johannesburg residents seek safety and a home A grandmother struggles to keep her granddaughter as she is torn away from her A mother seeks healing in the wake of her son s murder And displaced by the city s drive for urban regeneration a group of blind migrants try to carve out an existence The Blinded City recounts the history of inner city Johannesburg from 2010 to 2019 primarily from the perspectives of the unlawful occupiers of spaces known as hijacked buildings bad buildings or dark buildings Tens of thousands of residents both South African and foreign national live in these buildings in dire conditions This book tells the story of these sites and the court cases around them which strike at the centre of who has the right to occupy the city In February 2010 while Johannesburg prepared for the FIFA World Cup the South Gauteng High Court ordered the eviction of the unlawful occupiers of an abandoned carpet factory on Saratoga Avenue and that the city's Metropolitan Municipality provide temporary emergency accommodation for the evicted. The case which became known as Blue Moonlight and went to the Constitutional Court catalysed a decade of struggles over housing and eviction in Johannesburg. The Blinded City chronicles this case among others and the aftermath a tumultuous period in the city characterised by recurrent disposessions, police and immigration operations, outbursts of xenophobic violence and political and legal change. All through the decade there is the backdrop of successive mayors and their attempts to clean up the city and the struggles of residents and urban housing activists for homes and a better life. The interwoven narratives present a compelling mosaic of life in post-apartheid Johannesburg, one of the globe's most infamous and vital cities.

Worshipping Politics Luke J. Goble, 2017-05-08. It is not a secret that the political system in the United States is broken. Unfortunately, many Christians are ambivalent about or worse yet contributors to that dysfunction. Many know they should do something but don't know what to do or how to do it. Drawing on insights from history, theology and culture, Worshipping Politics reframes the relationship between faith and politics as one of intentional formation instead of divisive decision making. When we focus on how we are formed as people and the church in relationship to our various communities instead of what we think and believe in relation to culture and society, it changes the way we engage the world. Unlearning our faulty emphasis on the power of our own intellect and learning how to be formed in grace and love for the world through our everyday lives just might make a different kind of politics possible.
