CHAPTER ONE LINEAR MOTION

Introduction

Study of motion is divided into two;

1. Kinematics
2. Dynamics

In kinematics forces causing motion are disregarded while dynamics deals with motion of objects and the forces causing them.

I. Displacement

Distance moved by a body in a specified direction is called displacement. It is denoted by letter 's' and has both magnitude and direction. Distance is the movement from one point to another. The SI unit for displacement is the metre (m).

II. Speed

This is the distance covered per unit time.

Speed = distance covered / time taken. Distance is a scalar quantity since it has magnitude only. The SI unit for speed is metres per second (m/s or ms^{-1})

Average speed = total distance covered / total time taken

Other units for speed used are Km/h.

Examples

1. A body covers a distance of 10m in 4 seconds. It rests for 10 seconds and finally covers a distance of 50m in 60 seconds. Calculate the average speed.

Solution

Total distance covered = $10 + 50 = 100\text{m}$

Total time taken = $4 + 10 + 6 = 20$ seconds

Therefore average speed = $100 / 20 = 5\text{m/s}$

2. Calculate the distance in metres covered by a body moving with a uniform speed of 180 km/h in 30 seconds.

Solution

Distance covered = speed * time

$$= 180 * 1000 / 60 * 60 = 50\text{m/s}$$

$$= 50 * 30$$

$$= 1,500\text{m}$$

3. Calculate the time in seconds taken a by body moving with a uniform speed of 360km/h to cover a distance of 3,000 km?

Solution

Speed: $360 \text{ km/h} = 360 * 1000 / 60 * 60 = 100\text{m/s}$

Time = distance / speed

$$3000 * 1000 / 100$$

$$= 30,000 \text{ seconds.}$$

III. Velocity

This is the change of displacement per unit time. It is a vector quantity.

Velocity = change in displacement / total time taken

The SI units for velocity are m/s

2014 November Grade10 Paper1 Physical Science:

ICTES 2018 Robbi Rahim, Kadek Suranata, Ifdil Ifdil, Itsar Bolo Rangka, 2019-03-13 The technical program of The First ICTES 2018 consisted of 114 full papers. Aside from the high quality technical paper presentations we also held workshop and clinic manuscript that was carried out before the main track aims to strengthen the ability to write scientific publications. Coordination with the steering chairs Dr Kadek Suranata S Pd M Pd Kons and the members of organizing committee is essential for the success of the conference. We sincerely appreciate all the Advisory Boards for the constant support and guidance. It was also a great pleasure to work with such an excellent organizing committee team for their hard work in organizing and supporting the conference. In particular the Scientific Committee led by Cand Dr Robbi Rahim M Kom have completed the peer review process of technical papers and made a high quality technical program. We are also grateful to Students Conference chairs were leading by Ida Ayu Made Diah Paramiswari for their support and all the authors who submitted their papers to the First ICTES 2018. We strongly believe that ICTES conference provides a good forum for all academicians, researchers and practitioners to discuss all Educational science and technology aspects that are relevant to issues and challenge for sustainability in the 4th industrial revolution. We also expect that the future ICTES conference will be as successful and stimulating as indicated by the contributions presented in this volume. The State of the Art in Student Engagement Carl Senior, 2015-07-10 There is an extensive literature conducted from a range of theoretical perspectives and methodologies on the role of groups and student learning in higher education. However here the concept of the group is heavily contested at a theoretical level but within higher education practice characterizing the group has tended to be clear cut. Groups of students are often formed within the parameters of specific educational programs to address explicitly defined learning objectives. These groups are often small scale and achieve tasks through cooperative or collaborative learning. Cooperative learning involves students dividing roles and responsibilities between group members so learning becomes an independent process and outcome. On the other hand collaborative learning involves students working together by developing shared meanings and knowledge to solve a task or problem. From this perspective learning is conceptualized as both a social process and individual outcome. That is collaborative learning may facilitate individual student conceptual understanding and hence lead to higher academic achievement. The empirical evidence is encouraging as has been shown that students working collaboratively tend to achieve higher grades than students working independently. However the above perspectives on student engagement assume that groups are formed within the confines of formal learning environments. e.g. lecture theaters involve students on the same degree program have the explicit function of achieving a learning task and disband once this has been achieved. However students may also use existing social networks such as friendship groups as a mechanism for learning which may occur outside of formal learning environments. There is an extensive literature on the role and benefits of friendship groups on student learning within primary and secondary education.

but there is a distinct lack of research within higher education This ebook is innovative and ambitious and will highlight and consolidate the current understanding of the role that student based engagement behaviors may serve in effective pedagogy A unique aspect of this research topic will be the fact that scholars will also be welcome to submit articles that describe the efficacy of the full range of approaches that have been employed to facilitate student engagement across the sector
