and untold stories behind the selection process are revealed in the book The often extraordinary backgrounds and personal ambitions of these skilled pilots chosen to continue NASA's exploration and knowledge of the space frontier are also examined In April 1966 NASA selected 19 pilot astronauts whose training was specifically targeted to the Apollo lunar landing missions and the Earth orbiting Skylab space station Three years later following the sudden cancellation of the USAF's highly classified Manned Orbiting Laboratory MOL project seven military astronauts were also co-opted into NASA's space program This book represents the final chapter by the authors in the story of American astronaut selections prior to the era of the Space Shuttle Through personal interviews and original NASA documentation readers will also gain a true insight into a remarkable age of space travel as it unfolded in the late 1960s and the men who flew those historic missions Life Didier Fassin, 2018-06-22 How can we think of life in its dual expression matter and experience the living and the lived Philosophers and more recently social scientists have offered multiple answers to this question often privileging one expression or the other the biological or the biographical But is it possible to conceive of them together and thus reconcile naturalist and humanist approaches Using research conducted on three continents and engaging in critical dialogue with Wittgenstein Benjamin and Foucault Didier Fassin attempts to do so by developing three concepts forms of life ethics of life and politics of life In the conditions of refugees and asylum seekers in the light of mortality statistics and death benefits and via a genealogical and ethnographical inquiry the moral economy of life reveals troubling tensions in the way contemporary societies treat human beings Once the pieces of this anthropological composition are assembled like in Georges Perec's jigsaw puzzle an image appears that of unequal lives Does the Internet Have an Unconscious? Clint Burnham, 2018-05-31 Does the Internet Have an Unconscious is both an introduction to the work of Slavoj Žižek and an investigation into how his work can be used to think about the digital present Clint Burnham uniquely combines the German idealism Lacanian psychoanalysis and Marxist materialism found in Žižek's thought to understand how the Internet social and new media and digital cultural forms work in our lives and how their failure to work structures our pathologies and fantasies He suggests that our failure to properly understand the digital is due to our lack of recognition of its political aesthetic and psychosexual elements Mixing autobiographical passages with critical analysis Burnham situates a Žižekian theory of digital culture in the lived human body The Economics of Structural Racism Patrick L.
