Truth in Marketing Thomas Anker, 2016-03-31 Can we believe the claims that marketers make Does truth in marketing matter Apparently not Despite the role of regulators marketing claims are often ruled to be misleading deceptive or incomplete Surprisingly scholars of marketing ethics have devoted little time to this key issue This may be because although key codes of marketing conduct insist on truthful communications there is only limited understanding of what truthfulness itself actually entails This innovative book develops a theory of truth in marketing and discusses the implications for consumers marketing professionals and policymakers Focusing on the problem of truth in marketing it analyses the theory of truth in marketing and examines the wider significance of marketing truth for society Using a wide selection of engaging global examples and cases to illustrate this fascinating analysis this engaging book will provide a provocative read for all scholars and educators in marketing marketing business ethics and CSR

Adcreep Mark Bartholomew, 2017-05-23 Advertising is everywhere By some estimates the average American is exposed to over 3 000 advertisements each day Whether we realize it or not adcreep modern marketing s march to create a world where advertising can be expected anywhere and anytime has come transforming not just our purchasing decisions but our relationships our sense of self and the way we navigate all spaces public and private Adcreep journeys through the curious and sometimes troubling world of modern advertising Mark Bartholomew exposes an array of marketing techniques that might seem like the stuff of science fiction neuromarketing biometric scans automated online spies and facial recognition technology all enlisted to study and stimulate consumer desire This marriage of advertising and technology has consequences Businesses wield rich and portable records of consumer preference delivering advertising tailored to your own idiosyncratic thought processes They mask their role by using social media to mobilize others from celebrities to your own relatives to convey their messages Guerrilla marketers turn every space into a potential site for a commercial come on or clandestine market research Advertisers now know you on a deeper more intimate level dramatically tilting the historical balance of power between advertiser and audience In this world of ubiquitous commercial appeals consumers and policymakers are numbed to advertising s growing presence Drawing on a variety of sources including psychological experiments marketing texts communications theory and historical examples Bartholomew reveals the consequences of life in a world of non stop selling Adcreep mounts a damning critique of the modern American legal system s failure to stem the flow of invasive advertising into our homes parks schools and digital lives

Commercialising Celebrity Persona Emma Perot,2023-09-07 This book investigates the commercialisation of celebrity persona in the UK New York and California Interviews with 68 practitioners across the advertising merchandising film and video game industries provide insight on the differences in approaches across jurisdictions as well as the similarities caused by non legal factors Furthermore the book addresses the developments in technology social media and social norms that have made collaboration attractive to maintain favour with fans The book considers how the extension of passing off in the UK to include persona rights impacts the dispute resolution and transactional spheres involved in the commercialisation of persona It compares the industry landscape to that of the US where the right of publicity has been recognised since 1953 and has gone as far as to protect identity The book argues that nonlegal factors significantly impact the commercialisation of persona across the jurisdictions and interact with the law to encourage permission based behaviours However there remains a divergence in the dispute resolution sphere Anyone who is interested in the multi million dollar business of celebrities as assets will benefit from this book

Arbitration in Switzerland Dr. Manuel Arroyo,2018-08-06 Arbitration in Switzerland The DIS Arbitration Rules Gustav Flecke-Giammarco,Christopher Boog,Siegfried H. Elsing,Peter Heckel,Anke Meier,2020-03-20 The new arbitration rules of the German Arbitration Institute Rules entered into force on 1 March 2018. Drafted over an intense period of eighteen months by a committee of globally recognized experts with the active participation of nearly 300 arbitration practitioners, the Rules stand poised to attract parties seeking dispute resolution not only in Germany but also internationally. This extraordinary book, written by the drafters themselves with more than 550 pages of comprehensive article-by-article commentary, is filled with practical insights and recommendations regarding the application of the Rules. Each provision of the new Rules is given its own chapter in which the following issues and topics are examined in depth for the specific rule under analysis: use of the provision in practice; modifications from the corresponding provision in the 1998 Rules; relationship to the relevant sections of the German Code of Civil Procedure; comparison with relevant regulations and practices in German State court proceedings; detailed expert commentary including analysis of case law and legal scholarship; DIS practice concerning the application of the provision; and comparison with similar provisions in other arbitration rules. An annex contains an extensive collection of reference materials including forms, schedule of costs, and texts of various international arbitration documents. The authors and editors have vast experience as counsel and arbitrators in proceedings conducted under the auspices of the DIS and other arbitral institutions. Their intimate familiarity with all aspects of DIS case administration is of immeasurable value to all stakeholders in arbitral proceedings. A genuine user's guide, the book explains how the new Rules are likely to be applied in practice by the arbitral institution, arbitrators, and parties. Its practical tips regarding the effective conduct of DIS arbitrations elucidate best practices for counsel and arbitrators and make DIS day-to-day case management and decision-making processes more transparent and predictable for users of all levels of experience and expertise.

The Future of High-Cost Credit Jodi Gardner, 2022-07-14. This book proposes a new way of thinking about the controversial and complex challenges associated with the regulation of high-cost credit, specifically payday lending. These products have received significant attention in both the media and political arena. The inadequacy of regulatory interventions has created ongoing problems with the provision of high-cost credit, particularly for consumers with lesser bargaining power and who are already financially vulnerable. The book tackles two specific gaps in the existing literature. The first involves inadequate analysis of the relevant philosophical concepts around high-cost credit, which can result in an oversimplification of what are particularly complex issues. The second is a lack of engagement in both the market and lived experience of borrowers, resulting in limited understanding of those who use these financial products. The Future of High Cost Credit explores the theoretical grounding, policy initiatives, and interdisciplinary perspectives associated with high-cost credit, making a novel and insightful contribution to the existing literature. The problems with debt extend far beyond the legal sphere, and the book will therefore be of interest to many other academic disciplines as well as for those working in public policy and the third sector.

Taming the Guerrilla in International Commercial Arbitration Navin G. Ahuja, 2022-05-23. The book explores the definition and nature of guerrilla tactics in international commercial arbitration. It analyses various such tactics deployed pre Covid and during Covid times and portrays them in a way that enables one to visualise how and possibly why they might be deployed Attempts to codify ethical standards and rules regulating the behaviour of legal representatives in international arbitration are examined The book covers a range of culture clashes addresses several elephants in the room and looks at factors inherent in the arbitral process that create opportunities and increase temptations to misbehave It considers the remedies and sanctions available in international arbitration and compares them to those available to the courts in civil litigation In addition to recommendations for future research the book offers solutions to curb the problem in line with party autonomy and with a critical analysis This manuscript is an essential solutions based text that not only addresses a comprehensive range of modern day guerrilla tactics in international commercial arbitration but also offers thoughtful methods to deal with the shenanigans that parties may bring to the arbitral process Chiann Bao Independent Arbitrator Arbitration Chambers and Vice President of the International Chamber of Commerce Court of Arbitration Dr Ahuja's book is a thoughtful and highly practical contribution to the study of procedures in international commercial arbitration It is replete with scholarly analysis careful treatment of authority pragmatic insights and policy discussions Any practitioner or student of international arbitration would benefit from this volume Gary Born Author International Commercial Arbitration 3d ed 2021 A highly readable and informative book which identifies and analyses the numerous guerrilla tactics parties may attempt to deploy in international commercial arbitration the factors which may encourage such behaviour and practical mechanisms to keep the proceedings on track Both erudite and practical this book is a must read for parties counsel and arbitrators alike Prof Benjamin Hughes Independent Arbitrator The Arbitration Chambers Guerrilla tactics are a pertinent problem in arbitration Dr Ahuja's well written book not only describes the various tactics in a succinct way but provides extremely useful guidance on how to tackle them It will be a primary source of reference for every practitioner faced with such tactics Prof Dr Stefan Kr ll Chairman of the Board of Directors of the German Arbitration Institute DIS Taming the Guerrilla in International Commercial Arbitration offers a refreshingly candid and balanced discussion of sharp practices in international arbitration The book collects a wealth of information on guerrilla tactics previously only available in separate survey reports articles and guidelines on the topic It additionally includes a chapter addressing tactics deployed in virtual or remote arbitrations due to the Covid 19 pandemic The comprehensive research and analysis presented in this book make it a valuable resource to counsel parties arbitrators academics and those who deliver practical arbitration training A must read for those who want to better understand the practices that may lead some to disfavor arbitration and ways the arbitration community can respond to guerrilla tactics to improve the arbitration process for all participants Dana MacGrath Independent Arbitrator MacGrath Arbitration From an unreasoned fiat of a wise man who left both sides equally unhappy but resolved the disputes effectively arbitration has evolved into a full scale trial before a party chosen tribunal Its informality and expedition puts in peril the fundamental right of the recalcitrant to delay proceedings Dr Ahuja has assiduously articulated the measures aptly christened Guerrilla Tactics used to disrupt and derail arbitrations An indispensable read for the practitioner and an insightful treatise for the policy maker Harish Salve SA QC Blackstone Chambers This book shines a spotlight on arbitration s dark arts guerrilla tactics Dr Ahuja illuminates this shadowy world with excellent and much needed scholarship that is practice based and useful for all stakeholders in arbitration His examination of the root causes of this problem recommendations on how to control it comparisons with litigation practice and suggestions for future research marvellously combine to make this a work that is required to be consulted by all serious counsel arbitrators institutions and academics in the field of arbitration Romesh Weeramantry Head International Dispute Resolution Centre for International Law National University of Singapore
