of these disorders and to develop more effective personalized treatment approaches. This research topic aims to advance the understanding of vertigo and vestibular diseases by exploring their underlying mechanisms improving diagnostic accuracy and enhancing therapeutic strategies The objective is to address specific questions such as the differential diagnosis of peripheral versus central vertigo the role of vestibular dysfunction in cognitive impairment and the effectiveness of multimodal therapy programs By testing hypotheses related to vestibular compensation and rehabilitation this research seeks to contribute to the development of innovative solutions for managing these complex disorders To gather further insights into the challenges and current research status of vertigo and vestibular diseases we welcome articles addressing but not limited to the following themes Differential diagnosis of peripheral and central positional vertigo Recurrence and residual symptoms of benign paroxysmal positional vertigo Inner ear malformation and vestibular dysfunction Sleep disorders and vestibular disease Vestibular testing and imaging in patients with vertigo or vestibular disorders Cognitive impairment and vestibular disorders Multisensory integration and vestibular disorders Mental diseases anxiety depression insomnia etc and vertigo disorders Research on vestibular compensation and rehabilitation training Multimodal therapy programs for dizziness and vertigo Therapy concepts for persistent postural perceptual dizziness PPPD Functional brain states in vertigo dizziness Age associated aspects of dizziness vertigo Epidemiological investigation of vertigo or vestibular disorders Molecular and genetic studies of vertigo or vestibular disorders Control of Communicable Diseases in Human and in Animal Populations: 70th Anniversary Year of the Birth of Professor Rick Speare (2 August 1947 - 5 June 2016) Jorg Heukelbach, 2018-10-24 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Control of Communicable Diseases in Human and in Animal Populations 70th Anniversary Year of the Birth of Professor Rick Speare 2 August 1947 5 June 2016 that was published in TropicalMed Advances in Technology-Assisted Rehabilitation Andreas Kannenberg, Shane Wurdeman, Ruediger Rupp, Laurent Frossard, 2024-08-20 According to a 2005 report of the World Health Organization WHO an estimated 1 3 billion people worldwide 16% of the global population experienced significant disability This number has only been increasing due to population ageing and an increase in the prevalence of non communicable diseases Rehabilitation addresses the impact of a health condition on a person s everyday life by optimizing their function and reducing the experience of disability Rehabilitation ensures people with a health condition can remain as independent as possible and participate in education work and meaningful life roles Global demographic and health trends such as population ageing medical staffing shortages rising prevalence of non communicable diseases as well as continued consequences of conflict injury and developmental conditions are placing increasing demands on the health care systems The need for quality rehabilitation is rapidly growing yet in many parts of the world this need is largely unmet Advances in Ascochyta Research Diego Rubiales, Sara Fondevilla, Weidong Chen, Jennifer Davidson, 2018-12-21 Legume crops provide an excellent source of high quality plant protein and have a key role in arable crop rotations reducing the need for fertilizer application and acting as break crops However these crops are affected by a number of foliar and root diseases being ascochyta blights the most important group of diseases worldwide Ascochyta blights are incited by different pathogens in the various legumes A number of control strategies have been developed including resistance breeding cultural practices and chemical control However only marginal successes have been achieved in most instances most control methods being uneconomical hard to achieve or resulting in incomplete protection This eBook covers recent advances in co operative research on these diseases from agronomy to breeding covering traditional and modern genomic methodologies
