Speech and Silence in Contemporary Children's Literature Danielle E. Price, 2023-10-31 Speech and Silence in Contemporary Children's Literature brings a fresh perspective to a central literary question Who speaks by examining a variety of represented silences These include children who do not speak do not yet speak effectively or speak on behalf of others A rich and unexamined literary archive explores the problematics of children who are literally silent or metaphorically so because they cannot communicate effectively with adults or peers This project centers children's literature in the question of voice by considering disability gender race and ecocriticism Children's literature rests on a paradox at the root of its own genre it is produced by an adult author writing to a constructed idea of what children should be By reading a range of contemporary children's literature this book scrutinizes how such texts narrate the child's journey from communicative alterity to a place of empowered adult speech Sometimes the child's verbal enclosure enables privacy and resistance At other times silence is coerced or imposed or arises from bodily impairment Children may act as intermediaries speaking on behalf of species that cannot Recently we have seen children exercise their voices on the world stage and as authors In all cases the texts analyzed here reveal speech as a minefield to be traversed Children who talk too much too little or with insufficient expertise pose problems to themselves and others Implicitly and sometimes explicitly they attempt to hold adults to account inside and outside the text Speech and Silence in Contemporary Children's Literature addresses this underconceptualized subject in what will be an important text for scholars of children's literature childhood studies English disability studies gender studies race studies ecopedagogy and education

The Posthuman Child Karin Murris, 2016-03-17 The Posthuman Child combats institutionalised ageist practices in primary early childhood and teacher education Grounded in a critical posthumanist perspective on the purpose of education it provides a genealogy of psychology sociology and philosophy of childhood in which dominant figurations of child and childhood are exposed as positioning child as epistemically and ontologically inferior Entangled throughout this book are practical and theorised examples of philosophical work with student teachers teachers other practitioners and children aged 3-11 from South Africa and Britain These engage arguments about how children are routinely marginalised discriminated against and denied especially when the child is also female black lives in poverty and whose home language is not English The book makes a distinctive contribution to the decolonisation of childhood discourses Underpinned by good quality picturebooks and other striking images the book's radical proposal for transformation is to reconfigure the child as rich resourceful and resilient through relationships with non human others and explores the implications for literary and literacy education teacher education curriculum construction implementation and assessment It is essential reading for all who research work and live with children
