Journal, 2007 Miscarriages of Justice in Canada Kathryn M. Campbell, 2018-06-12 Innocent people are regularly convicted of crimes they did not commit A number of systemic factors have been found to contribute to wrongful convictions including eyewitness misidentification false confessions informant testimony official misconduct and faulty forensic evidence In Miscarriages of Justice in Canada Kathryn M Campbell offers an extensive overview of wrongful convictions bringing together current sociological criminological and legal research as well as current case law examples For the first time information on all known and suspected cases of wrongful conviction in Canada is included and interspersed with discussions of how wrongful convictions happen how existing remedies to rectify them are inadequate and how those who have been victimized by these errors are rarely compensated Campbell reveals that the causes of wrongful convictions are in fact avoidable and that those in the criminal justice system must exercise greater vigilance and openness to the possibility of error if the problem of wrongful conviction is to be resolved
