2008 2009 Required Textbooks:

Textbooks in Academic Libraries Chris Diaz, 2018-12-03 Shortly after the syllabi are posted and long before the beginning of the term interlibrary loan departments at academic libraries will have filled or rejected innumerable textbook requests While it would be unwise if not impossible to buy and circulate every textbook at a college or university there are many academic libraries who are selectively adding textbooks to their collections And the practice seems to be gaining momentum In this volume the Association for Library Collections and Technical Services ALCTS and editor Chris Diaz gather case studies that pull together creative approaches and best practices for print textbook reserve programs This book discusses such topics as results and analysis from a detailed survey of a state university's core course textbook reserve program funding sources for starting or piloting a program using aggregated enrollment grade and textbook cost data to identify high impact courses identifying course related books that are in the library's collection or fit an existing collection policy workflow for using bookstore data with ILS and purchasing systems and using LibGuides and Google Sheets to publicize textbook holdings and how a back end database supports discovery for students and reporting for reserves staff A textbook reserve program can be one way of helping students who are struggling with the high cost of textbooks and this book spotlights a variety of examples that can be used as models

Getting Textbooks to Every Child in Sub-Saharan Africa Birger Fredriksen, Sukhdeep Brar, 2015-05-22 Textbooks play a key role in enhancing the quality of learning especially in the context of low income Sub Saharan African SSA countries characterized by large class size poorly motivated and inadequately trained teachers and short effective school years There are also high rates of illiteracy among parents and few reading materials at home for the student to bank on Despite extensive investments by governments the World Bank and other development partners the majority of students in primary and secondary schools in SSA still lack the benefit of access to textbooks and the key reason for this shortage is affordability textbooks are generally much more costly in SSA than in other developing regions The need to increase access to key learning resources is of particular urgency because most African countries experience low learning outcomes which in part contributes to a high drop out rate Only two thirds of those who enter school reach the final grade and only about half of these master basic numeracy and literacy skills And although quality improvement depends on many factors inside and outside the school there is wide agreement that availability of textbooks is both an indispensable and a cost effective way of improving the quality of the learning process A recent World Bank study examined the actual costs of textbooks the scope for cost reduction the portion of a national budget countries allocate to teaching and learning materials TLMs and hurdles in the way of making textbooks available to student Some interesting findings from the study The availability of affordable textbooks to all students could be dramatically improved by devoting an estimated 3 to 4 percent of the primary education budget and 6 to 7 percent of the secondary education budget The production process methods copyright length of print runs effective procurement practices rather than the production costs

should be the target of cost saving strategies The increased integration of ICTs into education in SSA can provide important opportunities for promoting availability of electronic TLMs but electronic TLMs are not a substitute for printed TLMs including textbooks

Oxford Textbook of Transplant Anaesthesia and Critical Care Ernesto A. Pretto, Gianni Biancofiore, Peter D. Slinger, 2015 The Oxford Textbook of Transplant Anaesthesia and Critical Care has been written by international pioneers in the field in order to equip anaesthetists and intensivists with the knowledge necessary to provide evidence based care

Where Have All the Textbooks Gone? Tony Read, 2015-07-22 This World Bank report is a rich compilation of information on teaching learning materials TLM in Africa based on the extensive and multi faceted experience of the author s work in the education sector in Africa The study examines a wide range of issues around TLM provision including curriculum literacy and numeracy language of instruction policy procurement and distribution challenges TLM development and production and their availability management and usage in schools It also looks at the role of information and communication technology ICT based TLMs and their availability The study recognizes that improved TLM system management is a critical component in achieving affordable and sustainable TLM provision for all students This study which draws from more than 40 Anglophone Francophone Lusophone and Arabic speaking countries will be particularly useful for policymakers development partners and other stakeholders attempting to understand the wide range of issues surrounding the complexity of textbook provision in Sub Saharan Africa

Raising the Impact of Education Research in Africa Charl C. Wolhuter, 2018-12-01 The low demonstrable effect of education research done in South Africa in particular and Africa in general continues to be a problem in scientific records in the educational sciences This scholarly collected work addresses this obstacle and focuses on recommendations from scholars in different sectorial categories in the field of education Scholars from a variety of sub fields within the educational sciences reflect on this particular matter revisiting the history of research and research outcomes and offering informed recommendations based on in depth investigation and analysis of aspects of the various discourses within the relevant sub fields The scope of the content of this collected work centres on the issue of the lack of scientific records concerning the scientific raising of the impact of education research The book aims at making a specific contribution to the educational sciences by stimulating scholarly discussion around how to increase the recording of the significance of educational research done in Africa and in South Africa in particular and to redirect the research agenda into the direction of making more impact Impact is conceptualised to mean both scholarly impact that is being cited and being used as foundation for theory building and for further research and practical impact that is improvement of practice teaching and learning in education institutions at all levels

Constructing Professional Discourse Concepción Orna-Montesinos,2012 This book explores the fascinating role that language plays in the construction of non verbal objects by mapping out the ontological meaning of the specialised concepts and the domain specific knowledge embedded in them In doing so it provides a comprehensive linguistic insight into the discourse of professional domain specific communities and hence into the communication practices and procedures of those communities In this respect the book offers a response to the claims made by many of the most influential applied linguists today such as Vijay Bhatia 1993 2004 John Swales 1990 2004 or Ken Hyland 2002 among others who have consistently defended the need for applied linguistic research into the textual generic and social perspectives on the under researched interrelatedness of the discursal and professional practices of a discipline Specifically this book provides readers with an integrative multi perspective approach to the study of professional domain specific discourses While it mainly draws on the tenets of genre theory and discourse semantics it also nurtures from the theoretical and empirical foundations of applied linguistics cognitive linguistics corpus linguistics and ontological engineering The book starts from the analysis of domain specific texts as final written products with specific lexico grammatical semantic and rhetorical features to later enquire into the written products as textual artefacts closely linked to the social context of production and interpretation of the text This integrative approach provides fresh new insights into the way the processes of writing are affected by the community specific institutional and socio historical circumstances in which domain specific texts are produced

Oxford Textbook of Medicine D. J. Weatherall, J. G. G. Ledingham, D. A. Warrell, 1996 The Oxford Textbook of Medicine is a comprehensive text which covers the practice of internal medicine and its subspecialties It gives specialty physicians an authoritative source to consult in day to day practice and when their patients have disorders which relate to other specialties This new edition has been extensively revised and large sections have been rewritten by new authors In the introductory sections there are new chapters on ethics and the assessment of medical care There are completely new sections on cancer medicine and the law and the eye in general medical diseases The introductory section on the scientific basis of medicine has been rewritten and expanded to include an account of the role of cell biology in clinical practice These changes reflect the increasing role of the basic sciences in medicine current concerns about ethical and legal issues and the recent advances in methods for the dissemination of medical knowledge and for the assessment of clinical trials The outstanding section on medical disorders in pregnancy has been substantially revised and expanded Because the Oxford Textbook of Medicine presents a global perspective on disease there is particular emphasis on infectious diseases
