Amelia Earhart

Name: _____

Amelia Earhart was an iconic American aviator known for her groundbreaking achievements in aviation and her pioneering spirit. During an attempt to circumnavigate the globe from July 28, 1931, in Honolulu, Hawaii, Earhart developed a personal fear of flying at night, despite the fact she had been experiencing trouble since 1924.

In 1935, Earhart joined the United States as the first woman to fly across the Atlantic Ocean, albeit as a passenger (the plane's crew) after a difficult two years of training by becoming the first woman to fly solo across the Atlantic. This daring feat was completed on May 20–21, 1935, in a Lockheed Vega 5B, earning her the Distinguished Flying Cross from Congress.

Earhart continued to break barriers, setting numerous altitude records and advocating for women's rights and opportunities in aviation. In 1937, she became the first person to fly solo from Honolulu, Hawaii, to Oakland, California, less than four hours, a record for flying over long distances. However, Earhart's dream of circumnavigating the globe in 1937 ended in tragedy. During her attempt, Earhart disappeared over the Pacific Ocean. Earhart and her navigator, Fred Goetz, vanished. Despite extensive search efforts, neither the plane nor their remains were ever found, leading to numerous theories and speculations about what happened.
