- The following section (51.721-51.740) lists procedures that may be used on any site or in many and varied combinations.

All procedures in this section imply that these services are performed by, or are under the direct supervision of, a physician or other qualified health care professional and that all instruments, equipment, fluids, gases, needles, catheters, technician's firm, medications, gloves, trays, tubing, and other sterile supplies be provided by that individual. When the individual only interprets the results and/or operates the equipment, a professional component, modifier 26, should be used to identify this service.

- [illegible]

techniques designed to insure that the main procedure can be detected without having to list all the individual functions performed at the same time. For example, monitoring, control, calibration and/or dilation, monitoring, and cyrology prior to a transcutaneous insertion of prostate, use of a communication following extraction of ureteral calculus, internal coagulation and (Stalder and Berglund) are performed in a continuous manner. The basic method underlies. However, a secondary procedure requires a specific additional time and effort; it may be identified by the addition of another 75.

- For example, authentication performed for a documented persistent structure is blocked until completion.

The insertion and removal of a temporary ventricular catheter (J2000) during diagnostic or therapeutic cytoscopy with endoscopy and/or proctoscopy is included in J2230-J2234 and should not be reported separately.

To report insertion of a self-retaining, indwelling stent performed during diagnostic or therapeutic cystourethroscopy with ureteroscope and/or percutaneous, report S2222, in addition to primary procedure(s) performed (S2030-S2034, S2044-S2051, S2154, S2241, and append modifier 51. Code S2222 is used to report a unilateral ureteral stent, otherwise specified.

For bilateral insertion of self-retaining, indolging external roots, use code 12002, and ground modifier M.

To report cytosine/thymine removal of a self-retaining, indwelling urethral stent, use 52.110, 52.075, and append modifier 58, if appropriate.
