Grading Smarter, Not Harder Myron Dueck, 2014-07-15 All the talk of closing the achievement gap in schools obscures a more fundamental issue do the grades we assign to students truly reflect the extent of their learning In this lively and eye opening book educator Myron Dueck reveals how many of the assessment policies that teachers adopt can actually prove detrimental to student motivation and achievement and shows how we can tailor policies to address what really matters student understanding of content In sharing lessons anecdotes and cautionary tales from his own experiences revamping assessment procedures in the classroom Dueck offers a variety of practical strategies for ensuring that grades measure what students know without punishing them for factors outside their control critically examining the fairness and effectiveness of grading homework assignments designing and distributing unit plans that make assessment criteria crystal clear to students creating a flexible and modular retesting system so that students can improve their scores on individual sections of important tests Grading Smarter Not Harder is brimming with reproducible forms templates and real life examples of grading solutions developed to allow students every opportunity to demonstrate their learning Written with abundant humor and heart this book is a must read for all teachers who want their grades to contribute to rather than hinder their students success

Multimedia Technology and Enhanced Learning Shui-Hua Wang, Yu-Dong Zhang, 2022-10-19 This proceedings ICMTEL 2022 constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 4th International Conference on Multimedia Technology and Enhanced Learning ICMTEL 2022 held in April 2022 Due to the COVID 19 pandemic the conference was held virtually The 59 revised full papers have been selected from 188 submissions They were organized in topical sections as follows internet of things and communication education and enterprise machine learning big data and signal processing workshop of data fusion for positioning and navigation and workshop of intelligent systems and control Communal Webs Tamar Katriel, 2012-02-01 This book brings together insights derived from a detailed exploration of Israeli cultural patterns of communication highlighting their role in the processes of culture formation maintenance and change Katriel s ethnographic examples provide a richly textured account of Israeli cultural experience illustrating the potential of a cultural analysis grounded in the study of ideologically informed communicative practices The author addresses central issues in contemporary anthropology and human communication studies such as the identification of cultural communication patterns in ethnographic research conceptualizations of the notions of culture and community the rhetorical force of cultural communication forms the role of ritualization in communication and social processes the critical potential of ethnographic work and the ethnographer s stance in studying one s own culture Making Connections , 2006-01-01 In this book comparisons are made between the practices of classrooms in a variety of different school systems around the world The abiding challenge for classroom research is the realization of structure in diversity The structure in this case takes the form of patterns of participation regularities in the social practices of mathematics classrooms The expansion of our field of view to include international rather than just local classrooms increases the diversity and heightens the challenge of the search for structure while increasing the significance of any structures once found In particular this book reports on the use of lesson events as an entry point for the analysis of lesson structure International research offers opportunities to study settings and characteristics untenable in the researcher's local situation Importantly international comparative studies can reveal possibilities for practice that would go unrecognized within the established norms of educational practice of one country or one culture Our capacity to conceive of alternatives to our current practice is constrained by deep rooted assumptions reflecting cultural and societal values that we lack the perspective to question The comparisons made possible by international research facilitate our identification and interrogation of these assumptions Such interrogation opens up possibilities for innovation that might not otherwise be identified expanding the repertoire of mathematics teachers internationally and providing the basis for theory development
