MASTER OF INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY (MIT) STREAM A Application for 2016

Thank you for your interest in the MIT degree at the University of Pretoria. This document contains information relating to the degree for 2016, including the purpose of the degree, the selection process, and how to apply. Please read all information carefully to prevent any disappointment.

The closing date for the 2016 intake is the 31st of October 2015.
International students' applications close on the 31st of August 2015.

Applications must include:

1. An online application on the UP web page
2. Full portfolio e-mailed to Rhona van der Merwe (rhona.vandermmerwe@up.ac.za or mita@up.ac.za)
3. All certificates and academic records, SAQA (if international student).

Only applications that are complete and received by the due dates will be considered.

PURPOSE

The graduate of the Master's degree in IT will have the knowledge and skills to manage and lead information and information technology-related activities in an organisation in strategic, operational and project environments. This degree provides a broad IT perspective as well as good research and reporting skills. The MIT degree is ideal for a middle management officer in preparation for senior management. Half of the degree is course work and the other half a mini-dissertation.

SELECTION

A limited number of applicants are selected for admission into the MIT degree every year. Selection is based on previous education, work experience and the strength of submitted portfolios. Applicants must meet the basic requirements for admission as stated below, but this does not guarantee admission, only admissibility. There is only one intake in January of every year.

Basic Requirements for Admission:

The following are basic requirements for admission to the MIT degree:

- An appropriate honours or bachelor's degree with an average of at least 65%; AND
- A pass mark in Mathematics at grade 12 (matriculation) level or another qualification in Mathematics, Statistics or Mathematical Statistics which the Selection Committee considers to be sufficient; AND
- Appropriate practical experience at middle management level in the IT environment.

These conditions apply subject to the stipulations of the general admission regulations of the University of Pretoria.

Innovations in online teaching and learning Judah P. Makonye, Nokulunga S. Ndlovu, 2023-03-01 This book's research is on online pedagogical approaches devised by teacher educators and researchers to circumvent a face to face curriculum delivery during the COVID 19 pandemic. The challenge faced by educators was that they were uncertain of how to use digital technologies in teaching learning and assessment productively. This book reports on case studies on teaching student teachers with technology in a way that advanced not only communication but also the cognitive growth of students in relation to disciplinary knowledge. The scholars from South African universities used both conceptual and empirical methodologies mostly in qualitative set ups. The scholarly contributions in this book are varied. They cover theoretical nuances for ICT use in education, considerations for the use of computers in the classroom, pedagogical thinking and pedagogical integration of ICTs in education, affordances of iPads in visible teaching and learning, supporting student cognition in Languages, Mathematics, Science, Engineering, Graphics and Design with ICTs. The use of software applications such as GeoGebra and Excel in teaching and learning mathematics is researched among others. The rich discussions that emerged from their research enable academics to learn from others' innovative moments that came as a result of pandemic pressure. The recommendations in this book can be used in blended learning beyond the COVID 19 era as curriculum delivery methods are bound to change. The value of this book is that it reports on pedagogical innovations in using digital technologies in teacher education. Researchers have an opportunity to learn from this book how to deal with the tantalising teaching and learning problem of our time. How can the use of digital technology transform teaching and learning in general and teacher education in particular?

Polymer Nanocomposites for Advanced Engineering and Military Applications Ramdani, Noureddine, 2019-04-01 The field of polymer nanocomposites has become essential for engineering and military industries over the last few decades as it applies to computing, sensors, biomedical, microelectronics, hard coating and many other domains. Due to their outstanding mechanical and thermal features, polymer nanocomposite materials have recently been developed and now have a wide range of applications. Polymer Nanocomposites for Advanced Engineering and Military Applications provides emerging research on recent advances in the fabrication methods, properties and applications of various nano fillers including surface modification methods and chemical functionalization. Featuring coverage on a broad range of topics such as barrier properties, biomedical, microelectronics and matrix processing, this book is ideally designed for engineers, industrialists, chemists, government officials, military professionals, practitioners, academicians, researchers and students.

Space, people and technology Amira Osman,Geci Karuri-Sebina,2023-08-25 In this book there is a call on built environment professionals to reflect on the role of narrative in shaping space influencing people and making decisions about technology It is argued that by changing the narrative and methods of representations new imaginaries can be generated and the scope of what is possible is significantly broadened Contextualized narratives vocabularies and metaphors can evoke new thinking and new practice This book looks for examples where professionals and communities have jointly worked together from the precinct to the site level The authors are especially inspired by the ideas of tinkering muddling through engaging with the mess and gnarly planning concepts that encourage experimentation and engagement with real life contexts learning through doing policy change through evolutionary processes and a hands on approach This book aims to elevate our understanding of the concepts of people centred participation and co production co creation by shifting the debate from the esoteric to the applied and contextual We believe that practice can only be transformed by transforming thinking Through the development of our own philosophies emerging from and rooted in context we may shift thinking and practice towards people community and care

Transformative Innovation for Sustainable Human Settlements

Andrew Emmanuel Okem, Sithembiso Lindelihle Myeni, Tshepang Mosiea, 2024-11-18 This book uses the transformative innovation policy TIP as a lens to show how innovative processes practices and systems could address critical challenges and facilitate the delivery of sustainable human settlements in South Africa The TIP approach shows that addressing societal problems is not a function of a technical solution within a government department but one that requires partnership with multiple stakeholders The book argues that it is essential to understand and embrace innovation policy that is transformative and responds to the social and environmental needs at local provincial and national levels It demonstrates that innovation policy should focus on transforming the socio technical systems that demand embracing notions such as experimental delivery and learning directionality and inclusivity Chapters explore the ability of the state to transform its organisational processes and capacity to improve and align its planning implementation monitoring and evaluation systems to high levels of efficiency and sustainability targets Bringing together various theoretical and empirical perspectives on innovation in the context of sustainable human settlement this book will be of interest to scholars and students in the fields of Housing Human Settlements Architecture Public Policy Development Studies Civil Engineering Political Science and Public Administration
