Making the Modern Turkish Citizen Özge Baykan Calafato, 2024-07-25 Featuring over 100 colour images this book explores the photographic self representations of the urban middle classes in Turkey in the 1920s and the 1930s Examining the relationship between photography and gender body space as well as materiality and language its six chapters explore how the production and circulation of vernacular photographs contributed to the making of the modern Turkish citizen in the formative years of the Turkish Republic when nation building secularization and modernization reforms took centre stage Based on an extensive photographic archive the book shows that individuals actively reproduced circulated and negotiated the ideal citizen image imposed by the Kemalist regime reflecting not only state imposed directives but also their class aspirations and other wider social and cultural developments of the period from Western fashion trends and movies to the increasing availability of modern consumer items Calafato also reveals that the freedom from state control afforded by personal cameras allowed the desired image to be sometimes tweaked by incorporating elements from Ottoman and Turkic traditions by pushing the boundaries of gender norms or by introducing playfulness Making the Modern Turkish Citizen offers a valuable portrait of the ongoing political and social changes on the lives of the Turkish middle class and of how they saw and wanted to present themselves privately and publicly

Scholes, 2016-11-25 Biodiversity observation systems are almost everywhere inadequate to meet local national and international treaty obligations As a result of alarmingly rapid declines in biodiversity in the modern era there is a strong worldwide desire to upgrade our monitoring systems but little clarity on what is actually needed and how it can be assembled from the elements which are already present This book intends to provide practical guidance to broadly defined biodiversity observation networks at all scales but predominantly the national scale and higher This is a practical how to book with substantial policy relevance It will mostly be used by technical specialists with a responsibility for biodiversity monitoring to establish and refine their systems It is written at a technical level but one that is not discipline bound it should be intelligible to anyone in the broad field with a tertiary education The Photographic Object 1970 Mary Statzer, 2016-02-02 In 1970 photography curator Peter C Bunnell organized the exhibition Photography into Sculpture for the Museum of Modern Art in New York bringing together twenty three photographers and artists from across the United States as well as Vancouver British Columbia whose work challenged accepted practices and categories The Photographic

Object 1970 serves as an exhibition catalogue after the fact an oral history and critical reading of exhibitions and experimental photography during the 1960s and 70s It proposes precedents for contemporary artists who continue to blur the boundaries between photography and other art mediums Provided by publisher Buster Keaton's Crew Lisle Foote,2014-11-19 Buster Keaton told an interviewer in 1965 When I m working alone the cameraman the prop man the electrician these are my eyes out there They knew what they were talking about Drawn from film trade magazines newspapers interviews and public records this book tells the previously unpublished stories of the behind the scenes crew who worked on Keaton s silent films like Elgin Lessley who went from department store clerk to chief cameraman and Fred Gabourie who served as an army private in the Spanish American War before he became Keaton s technical director I d ask Did that work the way I wanted it to and they d say yes or no Keaton said of his crew He couldn t have made his films without them

Paris and the Cliché of History Catherine E. Clark,2018-07-19 Paris and the Clich of History traces the changing historical meanings of photographs of this city during a century marked by urban renovation war occupation liberation and visual documentation Challenging the idea that photographs merely document the past it calls for new methods of reading photos as material objects with histories of their own and sheds insight on the capital s reduction to an image in the twentieth century

Aïm Deüelle Lüski and Horizontal Photography Ariella Azoulay,2014-01-07 This book is the product of a unique collaboration between Israeli artist and philosopher A m De elle L ski and visual culture theorist Ariella Azoulay In their longstanding working relationship they research how to theorize the structure of the contemporary scopic regime and open a space for its civil transformation

Gendered Tropes in War Photography Marta Zarzycka,2016-09-13 Photographic stills of women appearing in both press coverage and relief campaigns have long been central to the documentation of war and civil conflict. Images of non-Western women in particular regularly function as symbols of the misery and hopelessness of the oppressed. Featured on the front pages of newspapers and in NGO reports, they inform public understandings of war and peace, victims and perpetrators, but within a discourse that often obscures social and political subjectivities. Uniquely, this book deconstructs in a systematic, gender-sensitive way the repetitive circulation of certain images of war, conflict, and state violence in order to scrutinize the role of photographic tropes in the globalized visual sphere. Zarzycka builds on feminist theories of representations of war to explore how the concepts of femininity and war secure each other's intelligibility in photographic practices. This book examines the complex connections between photographic tropes and the individuals and communities they represent in order to rethink the medium of photography as a discursive and political practice. This book interrogates both the structure and transmission of contemporary encounters with war, violence, and conflict. It will appeal to advanced students and scholars of gender studies, visual studies, media studies, photography theory, cultural anthropology, cultural studies, and trauma and memory studies.
