Watch what you say . . .

The background of the book cover is a photograph of a sunset or sunrise. A bright, glowing sun is positioned in the center-right of the frame, partially obscured by the horizontal lines of a barbed wire fence. The fence consists of several strands of wire with sharp points, stretching across the middle of the image. Below the barbed wire is a chain-link fence. In the foreground, there are dark, silhouetted branches and foliage. The sky is a warm, orange-brown color, transitioning from a lighter hue near the sun to a darker tone at the top. The overall mood is somber and mysterious.

expressivity and literary style in the works of Plato Kierkegaard Novalis Sterne and others By isolating the formal techniques these thinkers developed Luk cs laid the groundwork for his later work in Marxist aesthetics a field that introduced the historical and political implications of text For this centennial edition John T Sanders and Katie Terezakis add a dialogue entitled On Poverty of Spirit which Luk cs wrote at the time of Soul and Form and an introduction by Judith Butler which compares Luk cs s key claims to his later work and subsequent movements in literary theory and criticism In an afterword Terezakis continues to trace the Luk csian system within his writing and other fields These essays explore problems of alienation and isolation and the curative quality of aesthetic form which communicates both individuality and a shared human condition They investigate the elements that give rise to form the history that form implies and the historicity that form embodies Taken together they showcase the breakdown in modern times of an objective aesthetics and the rise of a new art born from lived experience
