Digitised Newspapers - A New Eldorado for Historians? Estelle Bunout, Maud Ehrmann, Frédéric Clavert, 2022-12-31 The application of digital technologies to historical newspapers has changed the research landscape historians were used to An Eldorado Despite undeniable advantages the new digital affordance of historical newspapers also transforms research practices and confronts historians with new challenges Drawing on a growing community of practices the impresso project invited scholars experienced with digitised newspaper collections with the aim of encouraging a discussion on heuristics source criticism and interpretation of digitized newspapers This volume provides a snapshot of current research on the subject and offers three perspectives how digitisation is transforming access to and exploration of historical newspaper collections how automatic content processing allows for the creation of new layers of information and finally what analyses this enhanced material opens up impresso Media Monitoring of the Past is an interdisciplinary research project that applies text mining tools to digitised historical newspapers and integrates the resulting data into historical research workflows by means of a newly developed user interface The question of how best to adapt text mining tools and their use by humanities researchers is at the heart of the impresso enterprise

French theories on text and discourse Driss Ablali, Guy Achard-Bayle, 2023-01-30 It could be alleged that present day French linguistics is characterized by a specific connection between the epistemology of text and that of discourse The contributions gathered in this volume aim to reconsider this link or dichotomy in light of the latest research developments They are organized in three parts the first explores the text discourse connection while the second and third tackle the epistemologies of text and discourse
