The Oxford Handbook of the Sociology of Africa R. Sooryamoorthy, Nene Ernest Khalema, 2023 The Oxford Handbook of the Sociology of Africa presents a comparative analysis of sociological thinking in Africa Focusing on examples from Africa this diverse collection presents to a broad readership an accessible comprehensive up to date and topical analysis of sociological thinking in Africa Sociological discourse about African societies has been challenging and difficult due to a lack of both comprehensive analyses and holistic sociological evidence that covers Africa from past to present This Handbook locates African sociological thinking in historical context and takes a critical look at its current manifestations across the continent

The Palgrave Handbook of Christianity in Africa from Apostolic Times to the Present Andrew Eugene Barnes, Toyin Falola, 2024-03-07 This comprehensive Handbook provides chapter length surveys of the history of Christian missions and Christian churches on the African continent since the time of Christ Africa is rapidly becoming the most Christianized region of the world While common narratives about Christianity tend to present Christianity as a set of ideas and beliefs imposed on Africa from the outside such narratives hold little meaning for African Christians or for those seeking to understand Christianity in Africa as an indigenous faith The aim of the Handbook is to propose a set of scholarly starting points for a new set of narratives The chapters collected here communicate an idea of Christianity as it has been embraced among African peoples at particular historical moments It therefore grants voice to the various strands of African Christianity on their own terms and offers scholarly study of what these voices teach us about how the world's most adhered to religion is practiced and understood on the continent of Africa

Enemy Intimacies and Strange Meetings in Writings of Conflict 1800-1918 Holly Furneaux, 2025-04-03 Propaganda others the enemy as brutish brutal and lacking in humanity By contrast a wealth of literary and first hand writings present switches in which the enemy becomes as Wilfred Owen famously put it a strange friend This book focuses on moments of intimacy and reassessment between military enemies truces treatment of the wounded relationships with prisoners of war It is concerned with the work done by declarations of fellow feeling both to challenge and enable militarism The book explores enemy intimacies in literature philosophy and life writings to ask questions about the nature of amity enmity familiarity and otherness It ranges across British conflicts of the long nineteenth century a period in which ideas about the uniqueness of combat experience coalesced with a European effort to secure a distinctive version of so called civilized humanity The sense that soldiers of the other side bonded by experiences unavailable to civilians were just like us came into tension with views about the dissimilarity of other nations and races This book considers which enemies can become familiar and which are held as other investigating dividing lines of nation race religion and culture Enemy Intimacies and Strange Meetings asks how far these affectively powerful encounters can shift individual and wider narratives about civilisation and humanitarianism Attention to the violence that can be done by claiming and denying fellow feeling is held in tension with hope in the queer possibilities of reoriented compassion This book uncovers a rich cultural history of enemy intimacies to consider different orientations of cosmopolitanism and humanitarian fellow feeling while recognizing and explaining the ways in which full international kinship remains elusive

Publishing from the South Sarah Nuttall, Isabel Hofmeyr, 2024-11 In 2022 Wits University Press marked its centenary making it the oldest most established university press in sub Saharan Africa While in part modelled on scholarly publishers from the global North it has had to contend with the constraints of working under global South conditions marginalisation within the university budgetary limitations small local markets unequal access to international sales channels and the privileging of English language publishing over indigenous languages This volume explores what the Press has achieved and what its modes of reinvention might look like In widening and deepening our understanding of the Press as an example of a global South scholarly publisher this volume asks how publishing can contribute to a broader understanding of Southern knowledge production Featuring contributions from scholars publishers and authors this multi voiced volume showcases the history of the Press s publishing activities over 100 years from documenting its evolution through book covers and giving credence to some of the leading black intellectuals and writers of the early 20th century and the success of those works in spite of their authors racial marginalisation to the role of women both in publishing and in the spaces afforded to women s writing on the Press s list The collection concludes with essays by contemporary authors who detail not only their experiences of working with Southern publishers but also the politics and influences governing their decisions to choose the Press over a Northern publisher Publishing from the South shows the strategies deployed by the Press to professionalise Southern knowledge making and in the process demonstrating how university presses in the global South support the scholarly missions of their universities for both local and global audiences

African Literatures as World Literature Alexander Fyfe, Madhu Krishnan, 2022-11-03 The enormous success of writers such as Teju Cole and Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie demonstrates that African literatures are now an international phenomenon But the apparent global legibility of a small number of mostly Anglophone writers in the diaspora raises the question of how literary producers from the continent both past and present have situated their work in relation to the world and the kinds of material networks to which this corresponds This collection shows how literatures from across the African continent engage with conceptualizations of the world in relation to local social and political issues Focusing on a wide variety of geographic historical and linguistic contexts the essays in this volume seek answers to the following questions What are the topographies of the world in different literary texts and traditions What are that world s limits boundaries and possibilities How do literary modes and forms such as realism narrative poetry or the political essay affect the presentation of worldliness What are the material networks of circulation that allow African literatures to become world literature African literatures it emerges do important theoretical work that speaks to the very core of world literary studies today Until We Have Won Our Liberty

Evan Lieberman,2024-09-24 A compelling account of South Africa s post Apartheid democracy At a time when many democracies are under strain around the world Until We Have Won Our Liberty shines new light on the signal achievements of one of the contemporary era s most closely watched transitions away from minority rule South Africa s democratic development has been messy fiercely contested and sometimes violent But as Evan Lieberman argues it has also offered a voice to the voiceless unprecedented levels of government accountability and tangible improvements in quality of life Lieberman opens with a first hand account of the hard fought 2019 national election and how it played out in Mogale City a post Apartheid municipality created from Black African townships and White Afrikaner suburbs From this launching point he examines the complexities of South Africa s multiracial society and the unprecedented democratic experiment that began with the election of Nelson Mandela in 1994 While acknowledging the enormous challenges many South Africans continue to face including unemployment inequality and discrimination Lieberman draws on the country s history and the experience of comparable countries to demonstrate that elected Black led governments have without resorting to political extremism improved the lives of millions In the context of open and competitive politics citizens have gained access to housing basic services and dignified treatment to a greater extent than during any prior period Countering much of the conventional wisdom about contemporary South Africa Until We Have Won Our Liberty offers hope for the enduring impact of democratic ideals The Politics of Potential

Michelle Pentecost,2024-01-12 The first one thousand days of human life or the period between conception and age two is one of the most pivotal periods of human development Optimizing nutrition during this time not only prevents childhood malnutrition but also determines future health and potential The Politics of Potential examines early life interventions in the first one thousand days of life in South Africa drawing on fieldwork from international conferences government offices health care facilities and the everyday lives of fifteen women and their families in Cape Town Michelle Pentecost explores various aspects of a politics of potential a term that underlines the first one thousand days concept and its effects on clinical care and the lives of childbearing women in South Africa Why was the First One Thousand Days project so readily adopted by South Africa and many other countries Pentecost not only explores this question but also discusses the science of intergenerational transmissions of health disease and human capital and how this constitutes new forms of intergenerational responsibility The women who are the target of first one thousand days interventions are cast as both vulnerable and responsible for the health of future generations such that despite its history intergenerational responsibility in South Africa remains entrenched in powerfully gendered and racialized ways Gold, Finance and Imperialism in South Africa, 1887-1902 Mariusz Lukaszewicz, 2024-03-19 This book provides a unique account of the financial and political history of the South African War by analysing the organisation and operations of the Johannesburg Stock Exchange JSE the oldest existing stock exchange in the African continent Identifying the JSE as the nexus between international finance South African gold mining and British imperialism the book exposes the financial and political connections between Johannesburg Pretoria London and Paris during the final stage of the imperial scramble for southern Africa Gold mining presented the South African Republic ZAR and the whole southern African regional economy with a long term economic future and new prospects of industrialisation However this socio economic transformation was dependent on extensive capital investments and the institutionalisation of a coercive labour regime based on racial discrimination This monograph provides the first empirical examination of how international finance imperial politics and racialised industrial relations became entrenched in a key financial intermediary in colonial South Africa first in Kimberley in the Cape Colony and then in Johannesburg in the ZAR By studying the Johannesburg capital market s social microstructures the author demonstrates how colonial and international financial intermediaries underwrote and financed the largest wave of mining investments in Africa prior to the First World War Filling an important gap in literature on nineteenth century British imperialism and Anglo African Afrikaner relations this insightful book uses the JSE as a lens to carefully expose the structures and agency of global finance in the outbreak of the South African War and the making of South Africa as a unified colonial state The Short Story in South Africa Rebecca Fasselt, Corinne Sandwith, 2022-03-24 This book considers the key critical interventions on short story writing in South Africa written in English since the year 2000 The short story genre whilst often marginalised in national literary canons has been central to the trajectory of literary history in South Africa In recent years the short story has undergone a significant renaissance with new collections and young writers making a significant impact on the contemporary literary scene and subgenres such as speculative fiction erotic fiction flash fiction and queer fiction expanding rapidly in popularity This book examines the role of the short story genre in reflecting or championing new developments in South African writing and the ways in which traditional boundaries and definitions of the short story in South Africa have been reimaged in the present Drawing together a range of critical interventions including scholarly articles interviews and personal reflective pieces the volume traces some of the aesthetic and thematic continuities and discontinuities in the genre and sheds new light on questions of literary form Finally the book considers the place of the short story in twenty first century writing and interrogates the ways in which the short story form may contribute to or recast ideas of the post apartheid or post transitional The perfect guide to contemporary short story writing in South Africa this book will be essential reading for researchers of African literature African Activists of the Twentieth Century Hugh Macmillan, Tabitha Kanogo, Robert R.
