

First-person narrator personifies the poem and makes it seem more real.

London
This sounds purposeless - could reflect how he feels powerless to change what's happening.

I wander thro' each charter'd street, suggests the whole city is affected, not just one area.

Near where the charter'd Thames does flow, even powerful, natural features like the River Thames are under human control and affected by the city's problems.

And mark in every face I meet
Marks of weakness, marks of woe.

The speaker hears various distressing noises - makes this seem like a vivid, hellish experience

In every cry of every Man,

In every Infants cry of fear,

In every voice: in every ban,

The mind-forg'd manacles I hear

How the Chimney-sweepers cry

Every blackning Church appalls,

And the hapless Soldiers sigh

Runs in blood down Palace walls

Chimney sweepers usually young boys - emotive image of child labour.

Might be a reference to the French Revolution - sounds like he thinks ordinary people suffer while those in the Palace are protected behind walls.

But most thro' midnight streets I hear

How the youthful Harlots curse

Hears the prostitutes swearing but he might also mean they are a curse on London.

Blasts the new-born Infants tear

And blights with plagues the Marriage hearse

Oxymoron - links the happy image of marriage with death. suggests everything has been destroyed - used to show how everything is affected and nothing pure or innocent remains.

Powerful language of illness and disease. Destruction is implied by 'blights' and 'plagues' hints at something that's uncontrollable and destined to affect lots of people.

Repetition emphasises feeling of bleakness - despair affects everyone and there's no relief from it.

People are trapped in every way, even by thoughts and attitudes

Seems to be angry at all forms of power - describing the church as blackening could suggest that it is corrupt or tarnished by its failure to look after people. Grim visual image of the ugliness caused by the industrial revolution.

Contrast between innocence of youth and savagery of prostitution

The innocence of newborn babies is not immediately - society damages it's members

Annotation in Eighteenth-Century Poetry Michael Edson, 2017-10-18 Recent years have witnessed a growing fascination with the printed annotations accompanying eighteenth century texts Previous studies of annotation have revealed the margins as dynamic textual spaces both shaping and shaped by diverse aesthetic historical and political sensibilities Yet previous studies have also been restricted to notes by or for canonical figures they have neglected annotation's relation to developments in reading audiences and the book trade and they have overlooked the interaction even tension between prose notes and poetry a tension reflecting eighteenth century views of poetry as aesthetically superior to prose Annotation in Eighteenth Century Poetry addresses these oversights through a substantial introduction and eleven essays analyzing the printed endnotes and footnotes accompanying poems written or annotated between 1700 and 1830 Drawing on methods and critical developments in book history and print culture studies this collection explores the functions that annotation performed on and through the printed page By analyzing the annotation specific to poetry these essays clarify the functions of notes among the other paratexts including illustrations by which scholars have mapped poetry's relation to the expanding book trade and the class specific production of different formats Because the reading and writing of poetry boasted social and pedagogical functions that predate the rise of the note as a print technology studying the relation of notes to poetry also reveals how the evolving layout of the eighteenth century book wrought significant changes not only on reading practices and reception but on the techniques that booksellers used to make new poems steady sellers and antiquarian discoveries legible to new readers Above all analyzing notes in poetry volumes contributes to larger inquiries into canon formation and the rise of literary studies as a discipline in the eighteenth century
