Georgie Harvey and John Franklin Collection Sandi Wallace,2022-06-30 All four books in Georgie Harvey And John Franklin a series of rural crime fiction by Sandi Wallace now in one volume Tell Me Why Melbourne writer Georgie Harvey heads to the mineral springs region in central Victoria to look for a missing farmer and soon links the woman's disappearance with the unsolved mystery surrounding her husband. Meanwhile maverick police officer and solo dad John Franklin is working a case that's a step up from Daylesford's usual soft crime: a stalker targeting single mothers. When Georgie reports the missing person to local cops, sparks fly between her and Franklin. But what will the truth cost? Dead Again. Almost two years have passed since wildfires ravaged the tiny town of Bullock and Melbourne journalist Georgie Harvey is on assignment to write a feature story on the anniversary of the tragedy. Across the state in Daylesford, police officer John Franklin is investigating a spree of vandalism and burglaries while champing to trade his uniform for the plain clothes of a detective. When Georgie's story and Franklin's cases collide, she not only finds herself back in conflict with the man she's been trying to forget but also uncovers the truth about how the fires started. A secret someone might kill to keep. Into The Fog. Melbourne journalist Georgie Harvey is on hand when three children disappear from a police-run camp in the Dandenong Ranges. When Daylesford cop John Franklin hears the news, he feels responsible for the young siblings and abandons his post to join the search. As a snap polar storm intensifies, every minute is vital. Pushed away from the case by local detectives, Franklin and Georgie soon find a connection to a serial predator and another missing girl. But even if they risk everything, can they avert tragedy? Black Cloud. After a fatal explosion that a rural community is reeling from, local cop John Franklin and Melbourne journalist Georgie Harvey are among the first responders at the property. The crime scene is compromised by fire and water, and speculations run rife: Murder, suicide, accident, or sabotage. An isolated incident or just the beginning? As lives hang in the balance, Franklin seeks answers and someone to hold accountable while Georgie investigates her toughest story yet. But will one of them crack? The Parterre of Poetry and Historical Romance, 1835

Bright Stars Richard Marggraf Turley, 2013-08-15. If we could ask a Romantic reader of new poetry in 1820 to identify the most celebrated poet of the day after Byron, the chances are that he or she would reply with the name of Barry Cornwall. Solicitor, dandy, and pugilist, Cornwall's pseudonym of Bryan Waller Procter (1787-1874) published his first poems in the Literary Gazette in late 1817. By February 1820, under the tutelage of Keats's mentor Leigh Hunt, Cornwall had produced three volumes of verse. Marcian Colonna sold 700 copies in a single morning, a figure exceeding Keats's lifetime sales. Hazlitt's suppressed anthology Select British Poets (1824) allocated Cornwall nine pages, the same number as Keats and more than Southey, Lamb, or Shelley. Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine pronounced Cornwall a poet of originality and genius, and in 1821 Gold's London Magazine announced that in terms of tenderness and delicacy, even Percy Shelley was surpassed very far indeed by Barry Cornwall. It is difficult to square Cornwall's early nineteenth-century popularity with his subsequent neglect. In Bright Stars, Richard Marggraf Turley concentrates on Cornwall's phenomenal success between 1817 and 1823, emphatically returning an important and unjustly neglected Romantic author to critical focus. Marggraf Turley explores Cornwall's rivalry and, at various junctures, political camaraderie with fellow Hunt protégé Keats, whose career exists in a fascinatingly mirrored relationship with his own.

trajectory into celebrity The book argues that Cornwall helped to structure Keats's experience as a poet but also explores the central question of how Cornwall's racy and politically subversive poetry managed to establish a broad readership where Keats's similarly indecorous publications met with review hostility and readerly indifference The Life, Old Age, and Death of a Working-Class Woman Didier Eribon, 2025-03-25 A personal and philosophical reflection on the question of old age as a limit concept of Western thought A few years ago Didier Eribon's mother entered a retirement home Over the course of several months she lost her physical and cognitive autonomy and despite his resistance Eribon and his brothers were compelled to place her in a nursing home The doctor had warned that she'd rapidly decline And indeed refusing the degradation and humiliation of her condition Eribon's mother died just a few weeks later In The Life Old Age and Death of a Working Class Woman Eribon furthers the archeological historical sociological political and personal reflection he began with Returning to Reims this time to look at the question of old age How does our society treat the elderly especially the very elderly What are the daily humiliations the elderly are forced to suffer What are the conditions at the end of life Threaded through an erudite engagement with the works of Simone de Beauvoir Annie Ernaux Albert Cohen Michel Foucault Norbert Elias and many others the question of old age is shown here as a limit concept of Western thought and political philosophy What is the place of bodies that can no longer assemble discuss freedom or protest How do we hear those who can no longer say us What does it mean not to project into the future Can the absolutely dependent speak for themselves and if not who can speak for them Eribon left behind his prejudiced working class family to become an intellectual Looking back on his relationship with his mother he transmutes his rage sadness and shame over her death into a portrait of being reunited beyond unbridgeable difference Our Young Folks John Townsend Trowbridge, Lucy Larcom, Gail Hamilton, 1866
