Aniara An Epic Science Fiction Poem:

Aniara Harry Martinson, 1999 The great Swedish writer Harry Martinson published his masterpiece Aniara during the height of the Cold War right after the Soviet Union announced that it had exploded the hydrogen bomb Aniara is the story of a luxurious space ship loaded with 8 000 evacuees fleeing an Earth made uninhabitable by Man's technological arrogance A malfunction knocks the craft off course taking these would be Mars colonists on an irreversible journey into deep space Aniara is a book of prophecy a panoramic view of humanity's possible fate It has been translated into seven languages and adapted into a popular avant garde opera This volume is the first complete English language version and received the prestigious American Scandinavian Foundation Award

Science Fiction in Translation Ian Campbell, 2022-01-01 Science Fiction in Translation Perspectives on the Global Theory and Practice of Translation focuses on the process of translation and its implications The volume explores the translation of works of science fiction SF from one language to another and the translation of SF tropes terms and ideas of SF theory into cultures outside the West Providing a comprehensive examination of the state of translation into English the essays consider how representative the body of translated work of SF is from the source language culture It also considers the social political and economic choices in selecting a work to translate The book illustrates the dramatic growth both in SF production outside the Anglosphere the translation of works from other languages into English and the practice of translating English language SF into other languages Altogether the essays map the theory practice and business of SF translation around the world

Sad Planets Dominic Pettman, Eugene Thacker, 2024-03-28 Everything is sad wrote the Ancient poets But is this sadness merely a human experience projected onto the world or is there a gloom attributable to the world itself Could the universe be forever weeping the tears of things In this series of meditations Dominic Pettman and Eugene Thacker explore some of the key negative affects both eternal and emergent associated with climate change environmental destruction and cosmic solitude In so doing they unearth something so obvious that it has gone largely unnoticed the question of how we should feel about climate change Between the information gathered by planetary sensors and the simple act of breathing the air new unsettling moods are produced for which we currently lack an adequate language Should we feel grief over the loss of our planet Or is the strange feeling of witnessing mass extinction an indicator that the planet was never ours to begin with Sad Planets explores this relationship between our all too human melancholia and a more impersonal sorrow nestled in the heart of the cosmic elements Spanning a wide range of topics from the history of cosmology to the existential threat of climate change this book is a reckoning with the limits of human existence and comprehension As Pettman and Thacker observe never before have we known so much about the planet and the cosmos and yet never before have we felt so estranged from that same planet to say nothing of the stars beyond

Research Handbook on Law and Literature Goodrich, Peter, Daniela Gandorfer, Cecilia Gebruers, 2022-03-22 In this original and thought provoking Research Handbook an international and interdisciplinary group of scholars artists lawyers judges and writers offer a range of perspectives on rethinking law by means of literary concepts Presenting a comprehensive introduction to jurisliterary themes it destabilises the traditional hierarchy that places law before literature and exposes the literary nature of the legal

Nordic Speculative Fiction Jyrki Korpua, Aino-Kaisa Koistinen, Hanna-Riikka Roine, Marta Mboka Tveit, 2024-12-20 This volume brings together scholarly theories and practices on speculative fiction from the Nordic countries including Denmark Finland Iceland Norway and Sweden that are all rooted in similar values culture and history yet are independent and unique societies The book exhibits both the convergences and the diversity of the Nordics in fiction and fandom as well as in research It traces the roots of Nordic speculative fiction how it has developed over time and how the changes in Nordic environments and societies caused by overhanging shared global issues such as climate change mass migration and technological acceleration find space in speculative practices The first of its kind this book allows for deeper insights into the unique characteristics that make Nordic literature and art recognisable and allows for a better understanding of the place of the Nordics within wider global culture systems The chapters range from literary critiques film and television studies creative works by three Nordic creative writers transcultural text comparisons and contributions on speculative art to theoretical and methodological discussions on fandom worldbuilding and semantics Part of the Studies in Global Genre Fiction series this book contributes to connecting Nordic speculative fiction scholarship to the wider global community within the field It will be of interest to scholars and general enthusiasts of speculative fiction and those with interest in Nordic fiction film and television studies literary culture or media studies comparative literature and cultural history or art based research

The Facts on File Companion to World Poetry R. Victoria Arana, 2008 The Facts On File Companion to

World Poetry 1900 to the Present is a comprehensive introduction to 20th and 21st century world poets and their most famous most distinctive and most influential poems History and Speculative Fiction John L. Hennessey, 2023-12-14 This open access book demonstrates that despite different epistemological starting points history and speculative fiction perform similar work in making the strange familiar and making the familiar strange by taking their readers on journeys through space and time Excellent history like excellent speculative fiction should cause readers to reconsider crucial aspects of their society that they normally overlook or lead them to reflect on radically different forms of social organization Drawing on Gunl g Fur s postcolonial concept of concurrences and with contributions that explore diverse examples of speculative fiction and historical encounters using a variety of disciplinary approaches this volume provides new perspectives on colonialism ecological destruction the nature of humanity and how to envision a better future
