Getting to Zero Sinead Walsh, Oliver Johnson, 2018-07-15 In 2014 a 28 year old British doctor found himself co running the Ebola isolation unit in Sierra Leone s main hospital after the doctor in charge had been killed by the virus Completely overwhelmed and wrapped in stifling protective suits he and his team took it in turns to provide care to patients while removing dead bodies from the ward Against all odds he battled to keep the hospital open as the queue of sick and dying patients grew every day Only a few miles down the road the Irish Ambassador and Head of Irish Aid worked relentlessly to rapidly scale up the international response At a time when entire districts had been quarantined she travelled around the country and met with UN agencies the President and senior ministers so as to be better placed in alerting the world to the catastrophe unfolding in front of her In this blow by blow account Walsh and Johnson expose the often shocking shortcomings of the humanitarian response to the outbreak both locally and internationally and call our attention to the immense courage of those who put their lives on the line every day to contain the disease Theirs is the definitive account of the fight against an epidemic that shook the world
