Brownstein, 2015-12-14 This handbook provides a comprehensive examination of the past and present roles of drugs in society with a focus on theory research policy and practice Includes 28 original chapters with multidisciplinary and international perspectives by top social and behavioral scientists Reviews current knowledge in the field including key research findings theoretical developments and methodological debates Identifies ongoing controversies in the field emergent topics and areas in need of further inquiry Discusses individual drugs as well as topics like physiological theories of drug use and abuse public health implications of drugs patterns of drugs and crime international drug trade and trafficking and designer drugs Psychedelic Humanities Erika Dyck,Tehseen Noorani,Nicolas Langlitz,Alex Dymock, Anne Katrin Schlag ,Oliver Davis,2024-06-19 Psychedelics are part of a resurgence of interest in consciousness studies especially as altered states of consciousness are being re examined in the context of psychedelic assisted therapies To date discussions about psychedelics in modern medicine have been dominated by studies in biomedicine However given that cultural factors play a significant role in the subjective effects of psychedelics psychedelics can be considered a uniquely powerful point of convergence between the cultural and biomedical Writers and artists alongside psychiatrists and pharmacologists have participated in shaping the psychedelic experience by drawing on a rich set of approaches that blend narrative arts and humanities concepts to explain and interpret psychedelic experiences and explore consciousness for creative purposes Psychedelic studies past and present emphasize the importance of set and setting or the context of psychedelic consumption and its paramount importance in shaping psychedelic experiences These non pharmacological factors rely on a different set of methods and interpretations that necessarily rely on studies conducted outside of the biomedical sciences Recent Surveys of Nonmedical Drug Use William Alexander Glenn,Louise G. Richards,1974 The EU drugs strategy Great Britain: Parliament: House of Lords: European Union Committee,2012-03-16 In 2008 an estimated 34billion euros was spent on the drugs problem in the EU Much more needs to be done and must be done in the battle against the EU s drugs problem The EU must be more effective in its fight against drugs trafficking and should call on Member States to be more ready to learn from each other s experiences and to encourage cross border dialogue between their local governments and cities Following a six month long inquiry the Committee agree that the Member States should as now retain responsibility for their own drugs policies They recommend that the new EU Strategy should concentrate on three key areas Firstly co ordination through Europol of the fight against drug trafficking ensuring that any new measures actually reduce the supply of drugs and do not merely move trafficking elsewhere Secondly improvement of the collection analysis evaluation and distribution of information by the European Monitoring Centre Thirdly reliance on the EU s public health obligations and use of public health duties to encourage Member States to devote more resources to harm reduction and to engage in dispassionate and evidence based discussions on how best to treat the possession and use of drugs The Committee believes that the creation of a new drugs strategy lasting until 2020 should provide the perfect platform for a wider and better informed public debate on different Member States policies and approaches Unlocking the Emotional Brain Bruce Ecker,Robin Ticic,Laurel Hulley,2024-04-22 This highly influential volume now in a much expanded second edition delivers major advances for psychotherapy all empirically grounded in memory reconsolidation neuroscience A great increase of therapeutic effectiveness can be gained thanks to a clear map of the brain s innate core process of transformational change a process that does not require use of any particular system or techniques and is therefore remarkably versatile Twenty six case examples show the decisive ending of a vast range of major symptoms including depression anxiety panic shame self devaluing anger perfectionism alcohol abuse sexual aversion compulsive eating and obesity paralyzed self expression and teen ADHD all transformed through deeply resolving underlying disturbances such as complex trauma lifelong oppression by systemic racism and homophobia childhood sexual molestation parental narcissistic domination violent assault trauma natural disaster trauma and childhood traumatic aloneness and neglect This is a transdiagnostic transtheoretical lucid understanding of therapeutic action based for the first time in the history of the psychotherapy field on rigorous empirical knowledge of an internal mechanism of change and it achieves a fundamental unification of the confusingly fragmented psychotherapy field diverse systems no longer seem to belong to different worlds because they now form a wonderful repertoire of options for facilitating the same core process of transformational change as shown in case examples from AEDP Coherence Therapy EFT EMDR IFS IPNB ISTDP psychedelic assisted therapy and SE It s now clear why therapy systems that differ strikingly in technique and theory can produce the same quality of liberating change Practitioners who value deep connection with their clients are richly rewarded by the experiential depth that this core process accesses where no awareness had previously reached whether sessions are done in person or via online video It is an embarrassment of riches because in addition we gain the decisive resolution of several longstanding polarizing debates regarding the nature of symptom production the prevalence of attachment issues the operation of traumatic memory the functions of the client therapist relationship the role of emotional arousal in the process of change and the relative importance of specific versus non specific factors
