Agnoli, 2023-04-21 Race does not exist in animation it must instead be constructed and ascribed Yet over the past few years there has been growing discourse on the intersection of these two subjects within both academic and popular circles In Race and the Animated Bodyscape Constructing and Ascribing a Racialized Asian Identity in Avatar and Korra author Francis M Agnoli introduces and illustrates the concept of the animated bodyscape looking specifically at the US television series Avatar The Last Airbender and its sequel The Legend of Korra Rather than consider animated figures as unified wholes Agnoli views them as complexes of signs made up of visual aural and narrative components that complement contradict and otherwise interact with each other in the creation of meaning Every one of these components matters as they are each the result of a series of creative decisions made by various personnel across different production processes This volume re constructs production narratives for Avatar and Korra using original and preexisting interviews with cast and crew members as well as behind the scenes material Each chapter addresses how different types of components were generated tracing their development from preliminary research to final animation In doing so this project identifies the interlocking sets of production communities behind the making of animation and thus behind the making of racialized identities Due to its illusory and constructed nature animation affords untapped opportunities to approach the topic of race in media looking beyond the role of the actor and taking into account the various factors and processes behind the production of racialized performances The analysis of race and animation calls for a holistic approach one that treats both the visual and the aural as intimately connected This volume offers a blueprint for how to approach the analysis of race and animation Software Engineering and Information Technology - Proceedings of the 2015 International Conference (seit2015) Xiaolong Li, 2015-12-17 This book consists of sixty seven selected papers presented at the 2015 International Conference on Software Engineering and Information Technology SEIT2015 which was held in Guilin Guangxi China during June 26 28 2015 The SEIT2015 has been an important event and has attracted many scientists engineers and researchers from academia government laboratories and industry internationally The papers in this book were selected after rigorous review SEIT2015 focuses on six main areas namely Information Technology Computer Intelligence and Computer Applications Algorithm and Simulation Signal and Image Processing Electrical Engineering and Software Engineering SEIT2015 aims to provide a platform for the global researchers and practitioners from both academia as well as industry to meet and share cutting edge development in the field This conference has been a valuable opportunity for researchers to share their knowledge and results in theory methodology and applications of Software Engineering and Information Technology Cooley's Cyclopædia of Practical Receipts and Collateral Information in the Arts, Manufactures,
