Dutt, F.J. Costa, Surinder Aggarwal, A.G. Noble, 2012-12-06 In The Asian City the Asian urbanisation processes nature and characteristics of the 1990s have been analyzed by countries by comparing different countries and in an international context The authors are urban specialists from four continents This volume has been divided into six parts Part I Urbanisation in an international context Part II Comparative urban setting Part III Urbanisation characteristics by country Part IV Urban planning Part V The urban poor and Part VI Perspectives on urbanization This work allows the reader to understand Asian urban forms their evolution the nature of urbanisation its impact on economic growth in cities the living and working conditions of the poor and urban planning and problems Hong Kong Media and Asia's Cold War Poshek Fu, 2023 Hong Kong was a key battlefield in Asia s cultural cold war After 1948 1949 an influx of filmmakers writers and intellectuals from mainland China transformed British Hong Kong into a hub for mass entertainment and popular publications While there was no organized movement for independence largely because of its location directly next to Mao s China Hong Kong was central in the cultural contest between Communist China Nationalist Taiwan and the United States Hong Kong Media and Asia s Cold War discusses how China Taiwan and the U S fought to mobilize Hong Kong cinema and print media to sway ethnic Chinese in Southeast Asia and across the world Central to this propaganda and psychological warfare was the emigre media industry This period was the golden age of Mandarin cinema and popular culture Throughout the 1967 Riots and the 1970s the emergence of a new local born generation challenged and reshaped the Cold War networks of migr cultural production contributing to the gradual decline of Hong Kong s cultural Cold War Through untapped archival materials contemporary sources and numerous interviews with filmmakers magazine editors and student activists Po Shek Fu explores how global conflicts were localized and intertwined with myriad local historical experiences and cultural formation

Transforming Asian Cities Nihal Perera,Wing-shing Tang,2013 While there is no lack of studies on Asian cities the majority focus on financial districts poverty the slum tradition tourism and pollution and use the modern affluent and transforming Western city as the reference point This vast Asian empirical presence is not complemented by a theoretical presence academic discourses overlook common and basic urban processes particularly the production of space place and identity by ordinary citizens Switching the vantage point to Asian cities and citizens Transforming Asian Cities draws attention to how Asians produce their contemporary urban practices identities and spaces as part of resisting responding to and avoiding larger global and national processes Instead of viewing Asian cities in opposition to the Western city and using it as the norm this book instead opts to provincialize mainstream and traditional knowledge It argues that the vast terrain of ordinary actors and spaces which are currently left out should be reflected in academic debates and policy decisions and the local thinking processes that constitute these spaces need to be acknowledged enabled and critiqued The individual chapters illustrate that global spaces are more trans local traditional environments are more modern and Asian spaces are better defined than acknowledged The aim is to develop room for understandings of Asian cities from Asian standpoints especially acknowledging how Asians observe interpret understand and create space in their cities Hong Kong, Macau &
