Evidence-Based Chronic Pain Management Cathy Stannard,Eija Kalso,Jane Ballantyne,2011-08-26 A genuine evidence based text for optimum pain relief in various chronic conditions Contributes an important advance in the practice of pain management providing the information on which to build more coherent and standardised strategies for relief of patient suffering Answers questions about which are the most effective methods AND those which are not effective yet continue to be used Includes discussion of the positive and the negative evidence and addresses the grey areas where evidence is ambivalent Written by the world's leading experts in evidence-based pain management this is a seminal text in the field of pain Pharmacology for Chemists Raymond Hill, Terry Kenakin, Tom Blackburn, 2017-10-30 This textbook explains the key issues in pharmacology to chemists interested in or planning to work in drug discovery Encyclopedia of Molecular Pharmacology Stefan Offermanns, W. Rosenthal, 2008-08-14 An essential text this is a fully updated second edition of a classic now in two volumes It provides rapid access to information on molecular pharmacology for research scientists clinicians and advanced students With the A-Z format of over 2 000 entries around 350 authors provide a complete reference to the area of molecular pharmacology The book combines the knowledge of classic pharmacology with the more recent approach of the precise analysis of the molecular mechanisms by which drugs exert their effects Short keyword entries define common acronyms terms and phrases In addition detailed essays provide in depth information on drugs cellular processes molecular targets techniques molecular mechanisms and general principles Opioids in Pain Control Christoph Stein, 1999 This book offers a comprehensive overview of scientific developments and clinical implications surrounding the use of opioids in pain control Pharmacology Luca Gallelli, 2012-03-14 The history of pharmacology travels together to history of scientific method and the latest frontiers of pharmacology open a new world in the search of drugs New technologies and continuing progress in the field of pharmacology has also changed radically the way of designing a new drug In fact modern drug discovery is based on deep knowledge of the disease and of both cellular and molecular mechanisms involved in its development The purpose of this book was to give a new idea from the beginning of the pharmacology starting from pharmacodynamic and reaching the new field of pharmacogenetic and ethnopharmacology Neuroscience and Social Work Practice Rosemary L. Farmer, 2008-12-17 Over the past 30 years findings in the neurosciences have grown exponentially and have provided a profound understanding of the link between behavior and biology Although the Social Work community has long taken pride in using a bio psycho social spiritual BPSS framework in conceptualization and intervention the biological aspect of this BPSS framework has been sorely missing Neuroscience and Social Work Practice provides the critical missing link Introducing the latest neuroscience research it gives practitioners essential data in an easily accessible form with which to take on the challenges of increasingly complex human problems and diagnoses Key Features Takes readers on a tour of the brain and makes dense scientific material more engaging Provides a framework for how human service professionals can understand and implement neuroscience clinical data with the use of the Transactional Model Uses case vignettes to explain how neuroscience findings have been applied to specific practice situations Offers a deeper understanding of the links between neuroscience research and social work in such areas as trauma attachment psychotherapy substance abuse and the effects of psychotropic medications Intended Audience This cutting edge text is indispensable for practitioners in the human services field and is an essential supplement for upper level undergraduate or graduate students of courses in Human Behavior in the Social Environment and Social Work Direct Practice as well as courses on Interpersonal Practice with Individuals Children and Families Modern Anesthetics Jürgen Schüttler, Helmut Schwilden, 2008-01-08 Some important constraints of anesthesia must be taken into consideration when the pharmacological properties of modern anesthetics are discussed The most important of these could be that the target effect be achieved preferably within seconds at most within a few minutes Similarly offset of drug action should be achieved within minutes rather than hours The target effects such as unconsciousness are potentially life threatening as are the side effects of modern anesthetics such as respiratory and cardiovascular depression Finally the patient's purposeful responses are not available to guide drug dosage because either the patient is unconscious or more problematically the patient is aware but unable to communicate pain because of neuromuscular blockade These constraints were already recognised 35 years ago when in 1972 Volume XXX entitled Modern Inhalation Anesthetics appeared in this Handbook Series The present volume is meant as a follow up and extension of that volume At the beginning of the 1970s anesthesia was commonly delivered by inhalation with only very few exceptions The clinical understanding of that time considered anesthesia as a unique state achieved by any of the inhalation anesthetics independent of their specific molecular structure The very mechanism of anesthetic action at the biophase was discussed within the theoretical framework of the unitary theory of narcosis Frontiers in Pain Research Alexandre Lucas, 2006 Pain is an emotion experienced in the brain it is not like touch taste sight smell or hearing It is categorised into Acute Pain less than twelve weeks duration and Chronic Pain if over twelve weeks Pain can be perceived as a warning of potential damage but can also be present when no actual harm is being done to the body This book examines new research into the causes symptoms and treatments of pain Freedom from Pain (Sixteenth International Conference of Indian Association of Palliative Care) Sushma Bhatnagar, 2013-12-30 This volume contains invited lectures presented at the Sixteenth International Conference of Indian Association of Palliative Care held at All India Institute of Medical Sciences New Delhi Feb 13-15 2009 The objective is to improve knowledge base and clinical skills in addressing the issues of pain in Cancer and HIV AIDS patients Spread in 13 main sections this volume is a collection of 49 invited lectures provided by practicing doctors research scientists and academicians from more than 21 countries This volume would be of immense value and use to a Palliative care giver in the field of Cancer Pain Management and Palliative Care of the terminally sick patients b Post graduate students Residents and Interns in a Cancer or HIV AID center c On duty doctors nurses in an ICU pain ward day care center d care givers at Old Age homes This collection of invited lectures will definitely offer insight of new perspectives and directions in this socially relevant and desirable area of Pain and Palliative Care
