through investments in capacity building alone because the combination of institutional capacity and institutional integrity contributes to serial instability in universities Jansen makes an important intervention to understanding the root causes and offers interventions to produce stabilities such as the depoliticisation of university councils and appointing academics of integrity and capacity in the management and leadership of these fragile institutions This groundbreaking and long overdue study will offer a promising way forward for universities to better serve their communities and the country more broadly are relevant to our shared future Does the growth of academic independence as well as greater equality and the ability to develop theories different to those imposed by the better off parts of the world give rise to deeper understandings and better explanations Does it at least spread the ability to translate existing methodologies in ways that add meaning to observations of local context and data and thus enhance the relevance and influence of the academic profession locally and internationally This book in its varied contributions does not provide definite answers to these questions but it does show that Norhed is a step in the right direction Norhed is an attempt to fund collaboration within and between higher education institutions We know that both the uniqueness of this programme and ideas of how to better utilise the learning and experience emerging from it call for more elaboration and broader dissemination before we can offer further guidance on how to do things better This book is a first attempt
