Melanie Walker, Samuel Fongwa

2015 Univen Application Form:

Proceedings of the International Conference on Education Research Reza Hosseini, Higher Education Pathways Ashwin, Paul, Case, Jennifer M., 2018-12-14 In what ways does access to undergraduate education have a transformative impact on people and societies What conditions are required for this impact to occur What are the pathways from an undergraduate education to the public good including inclusive economic development These questions have particular resonance in the South African higher education context which is attempting to tackle the challenges of widening access and improving completion rates in a system in which the segregations of the apartheid years are still apparent Higher education is recognised in core legislation as having a distinctive and crucial role in building post apartheid society Undergraduate education is seen as central to addressing skills shortages in South Africa It is also seen to yield significant social returns including a consistent positive impact on societal institutions and the development of a range of capabilities that have public as well as private benefits This book offers comprehensive contemporary evidence that allows for a fresh engagement with these pressing issues The Urban Ecologies of Divided Cities Amira Osman, John Nagle, Sabyasachi Tripathi, 2023-06-12 The book discusses how division affect the fabric of cities and people s sense of identity and agency and are reflected in physical features architecture and urban planning The question of divided cities represents a complex and multistranded urban Ecology at once both social and spatial it cannot be limited to a single science or discipline such as social or spatial fields This suggests integrated and cross disciplinary understandings as well as integrated or parallel approaches and solutions Urban ecologies of division manifest in multiple forms One of their most palpable expressions is conflict with parallels around the world and often with correlations in the spatial fabric Violence in such contexts is often a surface expression of deeper socio economic or ideological differences Whether as a result of intervention by authority or by dissent between groups a divided city inevitably becomes a place of conflict in various forms and intensity eroding the joy of living and sense of collective belonging to the detriment of all In effect it erodes the collective advantage of being part of a more unified society A city exists in collections of social structures which mutually form a society A divided city implies divided social structures and in consequence a divided society The papers compiled in this book present many case studies of divided cities discussing the different causes of divisions and their effects on societies Some of the causes can be linked to conflicts wars colonialism or legislative political systems In response to the serious challenges resulting from these divisions the book aims to provide opportunities for new approaches and possibilities for new interventions and solutions making it significant to urban planners architects and policymakers The Origin and Growth of Geography as a discipline at South Africa Universities Gustav Visser, 2016-09-20 The publication provides the first comprehensive text that reflects on a century of the development of geography as an academic discipline at South African universities The book showcases a broad and textured review of South Africa s geography departments their staff members their times and the different Geographies they engaged in The book lays the foundation from which more expansive individual departmental histories can be written in the future Bosnian, Croatian, Serbian, a Textbook Ronelle Alexander, Ellen Elias-Bursac, 2006 Publisher Description

Language and Institutional Identity in the Post-Apartheid South African Higher Education Leketi Makalela, 2022-03-21 This book examines the intersections between education identity formation and language in post apartheid South Africa with specific attention to higher education It does so against the backdrop of the core argument that the sector plays a critical role in shaping re producing and perpetuating sectoral class sub national and national identities which in turn in the peculiar South African setting are almost invariably analogous with the historical fault lines determined and dictated by language as a marker of ethnic and racial identity The chapters in the book grapple with the nuances related to these intersections in the understanding that higher education language policies overt and or covert largely structure institutional cultures or what has been described as curriculum in higher education institutions Together the chapters examine the roles played by higher education by language policies and by the intersections of these policies and ethnolinguistic identities in either constructing and perpetuating or deconstructing ethnolinguistic identities upon which the sector was founded The introductory chapter lays out the background to the entire book with an emphasis on the policy and practice perspectives on the intersections The middle chapters describe the so called White Universities Black Universities and Middle Man Minorities Universities The final chapter maps out future directions of the discourses on language and identity formation in South Africa s higher education Universities, Employability and Human Development Melanie Walker, Samuel Fongwa, 2017-01-20 The book makes a significant contribution to critical higher education studies specifically to graduate employability research and to capabilities and education research The book moves beyond the simplistic conception of alleged gaps in graduate skills and mismatches between employers and universities and instead provides an innovative multi dimensional and intersectional human capabilities conceptualisation of graduate employability The book challenges an individualised notion of employability instead locating employability issues in social and economic conditions and argues that employability choices cannot be divorced from inequality Qualitative and quantitative data from multiple case study universities in South Africa are used to explore the perceptions and experiences of diverse students lecturers support officers and employers regarding what each university is doing or should be doing to enhance graduate economic opportunities and contribute to inclusive development The book will be highly relevant to students scholars and researchers in the fields of education and sociology particularly those with an interest in graduate employability Your Ucas Application 2014-2015 Karen Ette, 2014-08-18 Completing a UCAS application form is often the first encounter with accurate form filling in any student will experience Much of the form is completed using common sense but it is easy to trip into pitfalls when anxious that the application must be perfect This short book will guide prospective undergraduates through every step of completing the application accurately and advise on the Personal Statement How to Complete an
