The Russian Understanding of War Oscar Jonsson,2019-11-01 This book analyzes the evolution of Russian military thought and how Russia s current thinking about war is reflected in recent crises While other books describe current Russian practice Oscar Jonsson provides the long view to show how Russian military strategic thinking has developed from the Bolshevik Revolution to the present He closely examines Russian primary sources including security doctrines and the writings and statements of Russian military theorists and political elites What Jonsson reveals is that Russia s conception of the very nature of war is now changing as Russian elites see information warfare and political subversion as the most important ways to conduct contemporary war Since information warfare and political subversion are below the traditional threshold of armed violence this has blurred the boundaries between war and peace Jonsson also finds that Russian leaders have particularly since 2011-12 considered themselves to be at war with the United States and its allies albeit with non violent means This book provides much needed context and analysis to be able to understand recent Russian interventions in Crimea and eastern Ukraine how to deter Russia on the eastern borders of NATO and how the West must also learn to avoid inadvertent escalation

Making Makers Michael P. M. Finch, 2024-04-05 Making Makers presents a comprehensive history of a seminal work of scholarship which has exerted a persistent attraction for scholars of war and strategy Makers of Modern Strategy It reveals the processes by which scholars conceived and devised the book considering both successful and failed attempts to make and remake the work across the twentieth century and illuminating its impact and legacy It explains how and why these influential volumes took their particular forms unearths the broader intellectual processes that shaped them and reflects on the academic parameters of the study of war in the twentieth century In presenting a complete genesis of the Makers project in the context of intellectual trends and historical contingency this book reflects on a more complex and nuanced appraisal of the development of scholarship on war. In so doing it also offers contributions to the intellectual biographies of key figures in the history of war in the twentieth century such as Edward Mead Earle, Peter Paret, Gordon Craig and Theodore Ropp. Making Makers contributes to an intellectual history of military history and contextualises the place of history and historians in strategic and security studies. It is not only a history of the book but a history of the networks of scholars involved in its creation, their careers and lines of patronage crossing international boundaries from Europe to the USA to Asia and Australia. It is an investigation of ideas, individuals and groups of work completed and scholarship produced as well as contingency and opportunities missed.

The Violence of Conservation in Africa Ramutsindela, Maano, Matose, Frank, Mushonga, Tafadzwa, 2022-01-11. Offering insights on violence in conservation, this timely book demonstrates how and why the state in Africa pursues conservation objectives to the detriment of its citizens. It focuses on how the dehumanization of black people and indigenous groups, the insertion of global green agendas onto the continent, a lack of resource sovereignty and neoliberal conservation account for why violence is a permanent feature of conservation in Africa.

Lethal Autonomous Weapons Jai Galliot, Duncan MacIntosh, Jens David Ohlin, 2021. Lethal Autonomous Weapons explores the moral and legal issues associated with the design, development and deployment of lethal autonomous weapons. This volume brings together some of the most prominent academics and academic practitioners in the lethal autonomous weapons space and seeks to return some balance to the debate.

Cultural Heritage in Modern Conflict Timothy Clack, Mark

Dunkley, 2022-09-09. This edited volume offers an in-depth study of heritage and warfare from the perspective of defence studies. The book focuses on how in different contexts heritage can be a catalyst and target of conflict, an obstacle to stabilisation and a driver of peace building. It documents the changing role of heritage in terms of both exploitation and protection in various military capabilities, theatres and operations. With particular concern for the areas of subthreshold and hybrid warfare stabilisation cultural relationships human security and disaster response the volume reviews the historical relationship between heritage and armed conflict including the roles of embedded archaeologists safeguarding of ethics and dislodgement and destruction of material culture Various chapters in the book also demonstrate the value of understanding how state and non state actors exploit cultural heritage across different defence postures and within both subthreshold and proxy warfare in order to achieve military political economic and diplomatic advantages This book will be of interest to students of defence studies heritage studies anthropology and security studies in general as well as military practitioners
