 longer viewed as a totality but as a collection of individual interests public space both as a physical and symbolic space has will continue to feed discussions as long as models of participatory democracy represent the guarantor of good governance and the preservation of the public good Ranging from architecture sociology to literary criticism and women and gender studies the essays that compose this collection have as a common denominator the idea of public space as a vital aspect of public life in modern as well as in developing and traditional societies Placing themselves beyond the relentless theoretical debates around the concept of public space the authors agree that no matter what forms it takes public space remains a fundamental aspect of even those societies that until recently were viewed as hermetically sealed What emerges from the different perspectives included in this book is a general consensus that the symbolic value of the physical public space is grounded in the collective socio-political consciousness as the basis for a general sense of civic action
