Deep Blue Monty Newborn, 2013-03-20 is a competitor of the Deep Blue team. I had mixed emotions as I watched their chess playing machine defeat World Chess Champion Garry Kasparov during their 1997 Rematch. On the one hand it meant that our MIT program Socrates would not be the first program to defeat a human World Chess Champion. On the other hand I felt great admiration for the monumental engineering accomplishment that Deep Blue's victory represented and proud for the small part that my own team had played in advancing computer chess research. After over 50 years of concerted effort to produce a chess playing machine capable of beating the best human, Deep Blue finally attained the goal that so many computer scientists had sought. In this entertaining and informative book, Monty Newborn chronicles the story of Deep Blue from its origins as Chiptest at Carnegie Mellon University to its winning the Rematch as a top IBM research project. You do not have to be a chess player or a computer scientist to enjoy this marvelous tale of man and machine. Monty paints the characters of this drama in vivid colors from the technical geniuses CB Hsu, Murray Campbell, and Thomas Anantharaman to the visionary manager CJ Tan. As only an insider can, Monty recreates the excitement of the event, including the IBM marketing hype and the marvelous compendium of editorial cartoons.

Ananda John Dudley Ball, 1982. Whenever the subject of communities and communal living comes up, a variety of doubts and suspicions is usually aroused. The possible brainwashing of impressionable young people is frequently mentioned. Although the idea itself is centuries old, it has yet to be accepted as an approved method of living, even in this so-called New Age. Of the many hundreds that have been started, very few have proven successful. The fact that Ananda has done so remarkably well against terrifying odds and that at every time of crisis help always seems to come in some extraordinary way invites attention. During his lifetime, which ended in 1952, Yogananda called for the founding of spiritual communities dedicated to world brotherhood and to simple living and high thinking. Ananda is the first response to this directive. Its remarkable history and its present expanding horizons are the subject of this work.

Deep Blue Monroe Newborn, Monty Newborn, 2003. This book offers a detailed account of IBM's Deep Blue chess program, the people who created it, and its historic battles with World Chess Champion Garry Kasparov. The text examines the progress made by the creators of Deep Blue, beginning with the 1989 two-game match against Kasparov. The heroes are IBM researchers Feng Hsiung Hsu, Murray Campbell, and Joe Hoane, along with team leader Chung Jen Tan and International Grandmaster Joel Benjamin. The text chronicles one of the great technology achievements of the 20th Century. It establishes
