Telling Stories Differently Janet Condry, 2015-09-01 The aim of this book is to share a relatively loose collection of studies using digital storytelling as a pedagogical tool in Cape Peninsula University of Technology CPUT The book takes an informed social justice

approach to teaching and learning at the heart of which is the exploration of DST as a practice of voice and agency Voice and agency are important in excavating and recovering subjugated identities and moving the concerns of those occupying subaltern spaces to the mainstream of teaching and learning Yet this discursive shift is not without inherent challenges Multi modal technologies are reflective of wider inequities in the so called technological divide Whilst this is a book about higher education there are important lessons for schooling On the one hand the book is a powerful demonstration of the potential of DST for enhancing learning in schools particularly in schools serving the poor and marginalised On the other hand improving teaching and learning in higher education through the creative use of technology is essential to overcome the learning challenges of those entering tertiary level institutions

My heart in your hands Naitsikile Iizyenda, Jill Kinahan, 2020-07-23 My heart in your hands is a platform for poets in Namibia to speak out It lays bare the hearts of nearly 100 poets who have with courage honesty and love spilled their thoughts tears rage regrets love and laughter onto the pages of this book This collection celebrates the country s natural beauty stands in awe of the strength of our people expresses anger at the inequality and injustices present in our society and imagines idyllic dreams and hopes for a better future The poems display rich poetic nuances vary in length and form and give a textured view of the poets and the environments they represent a true reflection of Namibian diversity and a glimpse into our soul Psychology. Sielkunde ,1989 The Strategic Repositioning of Arts, Culture and Heritage in the 21st Century George Mugovhani,Owen Seda,2018-06-11 The post millennium world has been experiencing several recognisable historical milestones with regard to arts culture and heritage One of these has been the resuscitation and revival of creative elements of the arts culture and heritage of previously marginalised or disadvantaged communities around the world Until recently there had been scant regard and skewed allocation of resources for these but lately attempts have been made to promote and sustain them in order to enable the socio economic aspirations of a multicultural society The contributions brought together here are the product of papers that were presented during a conference on Strategic Repositioning of Arts Culture and Heritage in the 21st Century They cover a broad spectrum of subjects such as indigeneity music song and identity politics national reconciliation education product development and national development Academic Literacy and the Languages of Change Lucia Thesen,Ermien van Pletzen,2006-05-16 This book is an analysis of student literacy in an academic setting and how this has changed due to political economic and social factors The contributors who are all engaged in academic literacy work at a South African university use the theoretical tradition of New Literacy Studies as developed by theorists such as James Gee Brian Street and Gnnther Kress and apply this to a case study of one university in the changing context of South Africa Academic Literacy and the Languages of Change will be of interest to postgraduates and academics researching sociolinguistics or language and education Journal of Psychology in Africa (south of the Sahara, the Caribbean, and Afro-Latin America). ,2008 Rethinking Khoe and San Indigeneity, Language and Culture in Southern Africa Julie Grant,Keyan G. Tomaselli,2022-09-19 The San hunter gatherers and Khoe herders of southern Africa were dispossessed of their land before during and after the European colonial period which started in 1652 They were often enslaved and forbidden from practicing their culture and speaking their languages In South Africa under apartheid after 1948 they were reclassified as Coloured which further undermined Khoe and San culture forcing them to reconfigure and realign their identities and loyalties Southern Africa is no longer under colonial or apartheid rule the San and Khoe however continue in the struggle to maintain the remnants of their languages and cultures and are marginalised by the dominant peoples of the region The San in particular continue to command very extensive research attention from a variety of disciplines from anthropology and linguistics to genetics They are however usually studied as static historical objects but they are not merely peoples of the past as is often assumed they are very much alive in contemporary society with cultural and language needs This book brings together studies from a range of disciplines to examine what it means to be Indigenous Khoe and San in contemporary southern Africa It considers the current constraints on Khoe and San identity language and culture constantly negotiating an indeterminate social positioning where they are treated as the inconvenient indigenous. Usually studied as original anthropos but out of their time, this book shifts attention from the past to the present and how the San have negotiated language literacy and identity for coping in the period of modernity. It reveals that Afrikaans is indeed an African language incubated not only by Cape Malay slaves working in the kitchens of the early Dutch settlers but also by the Khoes and San who interacted with sailors from passing ships plying the West coast of southern Africa from the 14th century. The book re-examines the idea of literacy, its relationship to language, and how these shape identity. The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Critical Arts: South North Cultural and Media Studies. Assessing Multilingual Children Sharon Armon-Lotem, Jan de Jong (professore universitario.), Natalia Meir, 2015. Second language learners often produce language forms resembling those of children with Specific Language Impairment (SLI). At present, professionals working in language assessment and education have only limited diagnostic instruments to distinguish language-impaired migrant children from those who will eventually catch up with their monolingual peers. This book presents a comprehensive set of tools for assessing the linguistic abilities of bilingual children. It aims to disentangle effects of bilingualism from those of SLI, making use of both models of bilingualism and models of language impairment. The book's methods-oriented focus will make it an essential handbook for practitioners who look for measures which could be adapted to a variety of languages in diverse communities as well as academic researchers.

More Than Brothers Hein Willemse, 2000. Peter Clarke and James Matthews were born within days of each other: Clarke on 2 June 1929 in a stone cottage overlooking False Bay; Matthews eight days earlier across Table Mountain in a Bo-Kaap tenement building facing the city bowl. These two boys from similar backgrounds grew into young men before they met and formed a friendship that would last a lifetime. They became almost more than brothers. Yet they are complete opposites: Clarke is characterized by his dignified reserve and meticulous order; Matthews by his forthrightness and bohemian disorder. Over a period of more than forty years, both became well known in their respective disciplines: Clarke became a poet, short story writer, and primarily a painter; Matthews started out writing short stories and novels before establishing himself as the dispatcher of raging Black Consciousness poetry. This book is a tribute to two fiercely independent artists. It is liberally illustrated with the work of both artists in b/w and color photographs.
