Lewis,2010-10-30 I am a girl 13 years old and a proper broncho buster I can cook and do housework but I just love to ride In letters written to the children s pages of newspapers we hear the clear and authentic voices of real children who lived in rural Canada and Newfoundland between 1900 and 1920 Children tell us about their families their schools jobs and communities and the suffering caused by the terrible costs of World War I We read of shared common experiences of isolation hard work few amenities limited educational opportunities restricted social life and heavy responsibilities but also of satisfaction over skills mastered and work performed Though often hard children s lives reflected a hopeful and expanding future and their letters recount their skills and determination as well as family lore and community histories Children both make and participate in history but until recently their role has been largely ignored In I Want to Join Your Club Lewis provides direct evidence that children s lives like adults have both continuity and change and form part of the warp and woof of the social fabric The United States Catalog ,1906 A Volcano Heard Afar , The Annual American Catalog.

dynasty and widely vilified for a massacre of his company's striking workers in Colorado earlier that spring More Powerful Than Dynamite charts how anarchist anger progressive idealism and plutocratic paternalism converged in that July explosion. Its cast ranges from celebrated figures such as Emma Goldman, Upton Sinclair and Andrew Carnegie to the fascinating and heretofore little known Frank Tannenbaum, a homeless teenager who dared to lead his followers into the city's churches; police inspector Max Schmittberger, too honest for his department and too crooked for everyone else; and Becky Edelsohn, a young anarchist known for her red tights and for spitting in millionaires' faces. Historian and journalist Thai Jones creates a fascinating portrait of a city on the edge of chaos coming to terms with modernity. The School Journal, 1903
