The Reader's Handbook of Allusions, References, Plots and Stories Ebenezer Cobham Brewer,1882 The Seven Basic Plots Christopher Booker,2005-11-11 This remarkable and monumental book at last provides a comprehensive answer to the age old riddle of whether there are only a small number of basic stories in the world Using a wealth of examples from ancient myths and folk tales via the plays and novels of great literature to the popular movies and TV soap operas of today it shows that there are seven archetypal themes which recur throughout every kind of storytelling But this is only the prelude to an investigation into how and why we are programmed to imagine stories in these ways and how they relate to the inmost patterns of human psychology Drawing on a vast array of examples from Proust to detective stories from the Marquis de Sade to E T Christopher Booker then leads us through the extraordinary changes in the nature of storytelling over the past 200 years and why so many stories have lost the plot by losing touch with their underlying archetypal purpose Booker analyses why evolution has given us the need to tell stories and illustrates how storytelling has provided a uniquely revealing mirror to mankind s psychological development over the past 5000 years This seminal book opens up in an entirely new way our understanding of the real purpose storytelling plays in our lives and will be a talking point for years to come Gowrie, Or, The King's Plot George Payne Rainsford James,1848 Film Plots Leonard J.

Camp Knox Plot Frank Cobb, 2023-09-03 Excerpt There was noise a plenty in Triangle Park From one side of the beautiful little club house sounded the ear splitting squeak of swing chains All the swings were going back and forth as fast as they could be propelled by a score of pairs of active legs and arms A patient procession toiled up the ladder of the toboggan slide and sailed gloriously down the other side Eight small boys and girls dangled from the rings of the Maypole The sand piles at either side of the steps of the club house held bright little dabs of humanity all solemnly making sand pies Across the lawn green as emerald and close as velvet children in bathing suits ran to and from the bathing pool a round curbed fountain bed On the other side of the club house were the tennis courts where in spite of the July sun a dozen enthusiastic players hopped lightly around the courts while as many more sat waiting their turn on the benches set against the shrubbery Drawn up on the grass just beyond the courts was a marking wheel and beside it lay a boy flat on his back His cap was tilted down over his twinkling brown eyes showing only a brown cheek and a wide smiling mouth It was a good mouth and very very rarely was it ever seen drawn down into the sullen lines that it could assume when the owner forgot When Eddie Rowland was happy he was way way up when he was gloomy he went down down to the very depths and stuck to the bottom like a sculpin All the king's horses and all the king's men couldn't drag him up until the cloud passed and then pop there was Eddie sailing around like a May morning all happy and full of glee He was only fourteen years old and had a man's job at the Park during vacation He was in charge of the courts and they reflected credit on their keeper Never was there a time when the markings were not perfect never did a grass blade dare show itself within the lines prescribed The players learned there was not pull enough in
