Annual Editions Education 14 15:

Learning from the Past Diane Ravitch, Maris A. Vinovskis, 1995-02 Many Americans view today's problems in education as an unprecedented crisis brought on by contemporary social ills. In Learning from the Past a group of distinguished educational historians and scholars of public policy reminds us that many of our current difficulties as well as recent reform efforts have important historical antecedents. What can we learn they ask from nineteenth century efforts to promote early childhood education or debates in the 1920s about universal secondary education or the curriculum reforms of the 1950s. Reflecting a variety of intellectual and disciplinary orientations the contributors to this volume examine major changes in educational development and reform and consider how such changes have been implemented in the past. They address questions of governance equity and multiculturalism curriculum standards school choice and a variety of other issues. Policy makers and other school reformers they conclude would do well to investigate the past in order to appreciate the implications of the present reform initiatives.

Adopting the Track of Appearance: An Psychological Symphony within Annual Editions Education 14 15

In some sort of consumed by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of fast communication, the melodic splendor and psychological symphony produced by the written term frequently diminish into the backdrop, eclipsed by the relentless sound and disturbances that permeate our lives. However, set within the pages of Annual Editions Education 14 15 a charming literary treasure full of raw thoughts, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by a wonderful composer of language, this captivating masterpiece conducts visitors on an emotional journey, well unraveling the hidden songs and profound affect resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase.
