A New Writing Classroom Patrick Sullivan, 2014-11-15 In A New Writing Classroom Patrick Sullivan provides a new generation of teachers a means and a rationale to reconceive their approach to teaching writing calling into question the discipline's dependence on argument Including secondary writing teachers within his purview Sullivan advocates a more diverse exploratory and flexible approach to writing activities in grades six through thirteen A New Writing Classroom encourages teachers to pay more attention to research in learning theory transfer of learning international models for nurturing excellence in the classroom and recent work in listening to teach students the sort of dialogic stance that leads to higher order thinking and more sophisticated communication The conventional argumentative essay is often a simplistic form of argument widely believed to be the most appropriate type of writing in English classes but other kinds of writing may be more valuable to students and offer more important kinds of cognitive challenges Focusing on listening and dispositions or habits of mind as central elements of this new composition pedagogy A New Writing Classroom draws not just on composition studies but also on cognitive psychology philosophy learning theory literature and history making an exciting and significant contribution to the field

Substantive Perspectivism: An Essay on Philosophical Concern with Truth Bo Mou, 2009-09-16 I have been thinking about the philosophical issue of truth for more than two decades It is one of several fascinating philosophical issues that motivated me to change my primary reflective interest to philosophy after receiving BS in mathematics in 1982 Some serious academic work in this connection started around the late eighties when I translated into Chinese a dozen of Donald Davidson's representative essays on truth and meaning and when I assumed translator for Adam Morton who gave a series of lectures on the issue in Beijing 1988 which was co-sponsored by my then institution Institute of Philosophy Chinese Academy of Social Science I have loved the issue both for its own sake as one specific major issue in the philosophy of language and metaphysics and for the sake of its significant involvement in many philosophical issues in different subjects of philosophy Having been attracted to the analytic approach I was then interested in looking at the issue both from the points of view of classical Chinese philosophy and Marxist philosophy two major styles or frameworks of doing philosophy during that time in China and from the point of view of contemporary analytic philosophy which was then less recognized in the Chinese philosophical circle

Bilingual Learners and Social Equity Ruth Harman, 2017-08-13 This volume explores how educators conceptualized and implemented critical approaches to systemic functional linguistics that support bilingual students in appropriating and challenging dominant knowledge domains in K-16 contexts The researchers exhibit a shared commitment to enacting a culturally sustaining SFL praxis that validates multilingual meaning-making pushes against social inequity and fosters creative re-mixing of available semiotic resources It should prove a valuable resource for students teachers and researchers interested in applied linguistics education and critical theory
