The Education Gazette of the Province of the Cape of Good Hope Cape of Good Hope (South Africa). Education Department,1916 New Scientist and Science Journal ,1987 Corrupted Jonathan D Jansen,2023-02-01 In South African higher education the images of dysfunction are everywhere Student protests Violence Police presence Rubber or real bullets Class disruptions Burning tyres Damaged buildings Injury and sometimes death Reports of wholesale corruption Year after year often in the same set of universities the problem of routine instability seems insoluble The financial academic and reputational costs of ongoing dysfunction are high especially for those universities caught up in the never ending struggle to overcome apartheid legacies Any number of explanations have been ventured including a lack of resources shortage of capacity rural location corrupt officials and endemic conflict Corrupted takes a deeper look at dysfunction in an attempt to unravel the root causes in a sample of South African universities At the heart of the problem lies the vexed issue of resources or more pertinently the relationship between resources and power who gets what and why Whatever else it aspires to be commonly a place of teaching learning research and public duty a university in an impoverished community is also a rich concentration of resources around which corrupt staff students and those outside of campus all vie for access Taking a political economic approach Jonathan Jansen describes the daily struggle for institutional resources and offers accessible sensible insights He argues that the problem won't be solved through investments in capacity building alone because the combination of institutional capacity and institutional integrity contributes to serial instability in universities Rather durable solutions would include the depoliticisation of university councils and appointments of academics with integrity and capacity to manage and lead these fragile institutions This groundbreaking and long overdue study will offer a promising way forward for universities to better serve their communities and the country more broadly South African Outlook ,1984 An independent journal dealing with ecumenical and racial affairs Subject Catalog, 1978 Library of Congress,1978

WITS: The 'Open' Years Bruce Murray,2022-09-01 In the period between the outbreak of World War II in 1939 and the enactment of university apartheid by the Nationalist Government in 1959 the University of the Witwatersrand Johannesburg Wits developed as an open university admitting students of all races This the second volume of the history of Wits by historian Bruce Murray has as its central theme the process by which Wits became open the compromises this process entailed and the defence the University mounted to preserve its open status in the face of the challenges posed by the Nationalist Government The University's institutional autonomy is highlighted by Yunus Ballim in his preface to the centenary edition of WITS The Open Years He writes The emerging posture of a university willing to rise in defence of academic freedom was important because this was to become infused into the institutional culture of Wits The book looks at the University's role in South Africa's war effort its contribution to the education of ex volunteers after the war its leading role in training job seeking professionals required by a rapidly expanding economy and the rise of research and postgraduate study Students feature prominently through their political activities the flourishing of a student intelligentsia the heyday of the Remember and Give Rag parade rugby intervarsity and the stunning success of Wits sportsmen and women WITS The Open Years paints a vivid picture of the range of personalities who enlivened the campus among them some well known figures in the new South Africa The book includes chapters by Alf Stadler who was Professor of Political Studies at Wits and the author of The Political Economy of Modern South Africa and Jonty Winch former Sports Officer at Wits and the author of Wits Sport The National Union Catalog, Pre-1956 Imprints Library of Congress, American Library Association.
