Share the Wealth Philippe Askenazy, 2021-01-12 A new perspective on the neoliberal world through the prism of rents and rentiers. How can we reduce inequalities? How can we make work get better recognition and better pay? Philippe Askenazy in this new book shows that the current share of wealth is far from natural; it results from rising rents and their capture by the actors best endowed in the economic game. In this race for rents, the world of work is the big loser while many workers feed capital rents by increased productivity and worsened working conditions; they are stigmatized as unproductive and their earnings stagnate. By proposing a new description of the capital-work relationship, calling for a remobilization of the world of work and particularly poorly paid employees, Askenazy shows that there is a more radical alternative to neoliberalism beyond simply redistribution Fundamentals of Transfer Pricing Raffaele Petruzzi, Giammarco Cottani, Michael Lang, 2022-06-20 This is Part Two of a crucially significant two volume set on the nature of transfer pricing that fully elucidates how the growing body of applicable rules works in practice The preceding volume subtitled General Topics and Specific Transactions focused on basic principles and specialized topics This volume enlarges the scope of the first volume particularly concerning industry specifics regional considerations the use of new technologies and the intersection between transfer pricing rules and other disciplines As in the first volume stakeholding contributors from government multinational companies international organizations advisory groups and academia offer deeply informed perspectives both general and specific on the practical application of transfer pricing rules With numerous examples and relevant international judicial precedents the authors augment the first volume in such ways as the following extended analysis of particular business sectors including automotive banking consumer goods insurance IT oil and gas and pharmaceuticals specific jurisdictional coverage of the United States the European Union Brazil China and India detailed presentation of the use of new technologies by both taxpayers and tax authorities and further in depth analysis of transfer pricing's interaction with various fields of law With this authoritative source of practical guidance advisors in house practitioners government officials and academics worldwide will have all the details they need to move forward in tackling the complex aspects of the current transfer pricing environment Exploring Motor Imagery Across the Lifespan - Gaps Between Practical Applications and Theoretical Frameworks Pedro Alexandre Duarte-Mendes, Daniel Marinho, Maurizio Bertollo, André Ramalho, 2025-10-31 Motor imagery MI a multisensorial mental representation of the image of actions or objects and situations without an actual experience and without appropriate sensory input that activates motor control regions in the brain without physical execution provides insights into the link between motor control and cognitive function This process promotes learning and improves motor skills often in combination with physical practice in both healthy and clinical populations It is therefore used in various areas such as education rehabilitation music and sport throughout the human lifespan In the first years of life the development of MI runs parallel to neuronal and physical growth which has a positive effect on learning and provides information about developmental disorders In adults especially athletes MI improves skills optimizes performance and plays a key role in rehabilitation by enabling the restoration of neural pathways In advanced age MI can preserve mobility and cognitive function It can also mitigate age related cognitive decline and thus maintain quality of life by preserving neural plasticity Despite its importance across the human lifespan MI is a topic that requires further analysis as it remains unclear how different types of imagery and their associated cognitive processes differ This research topic aims to find an answer to this call by examining the central role of MI across the lifespan with a particular focus on its importance for cognitive development skill acquisition and rehabilitation Recent advances in neuroimaging and cognitive neuroscience have provided valuable insights into the neural basis of MI and introduced new methods that could revolutionize its practical application A thorough understanding of these mechanisms will enable the development of customized approaches that consider the specific needs of the tasks and the individuals involved This clarification will allow MI to be successfully integrated into educational programs sports training and rehabilitation therapies By tailoring interventions to different populations we can transfer the principles of physical training into MI practice to optimize motor learning and rehabilitation outcomes We welcome contributions that broaden our understanding of MI at all stages of life and focus on developmental aspects performance enhancement and rehabilitation We are particularly interested in original papers review articles and interdisciplinary studies that address but are not limited to the following research subtopics Neurophysiological basis of MI at different developmental stages The contribution of MI to sport and performance enhancement The use of MI in clinical and rehabilitation settings Innovative methodological approaches to the evaluation and implementation of MI Contributions linking MI to advances in cognitive psychology neurology or Artificial Intelligence This Research Topic invites an array of contributions including but not limited to original research review papers systematic reviews with or without meta analysis and research methods all aiming to develop a holistic understanding of MI and promote its practical application in different age groups
