Library,1998 The Trial of Gustav Graef Barnet Hartston,2017-11-15 Although largely forgotten now the 1885 trial of German artist Gustav Graef was a seminal event for those who observed it Graef a celebrated sixty four year old portraitist was accused of perjury and sexual impropriety with underage models On trial alongside him was one of his former models the twenty one year old Bertha Rother who quickly became a central figure in the affair As the case was being heard images of Rother including photographic reproductions of Graef s nude paintings of her began to flood the art shops and bookstores of Berlin and spread across Europe Spurred by this trade in images and by sensational coverage in the press this former prostitute was transformed into an international sex symbol and a target of both public lust and scorn Passionate discussions of the case echoed in the press for months and the episode lasted in public memory for far longer The Graef trial however was much more than a salacious story that served as public entertainment The case inspired fierce political debates long after a verdict was delivered including disputes about obscenity laws the moral degeneracy of modern art and artists the alleged pernicious effects of Jewish influence legal restrictions on prostitution the causes of urban criminality the impact of sensationalized press coverage and the requirements of bourgeois masculine honor Above all the case unleashed withering public criticism of a criminal justice system that many Germans agreed had become entirely dysfunctional The story of the Graef trial offers a unique perspective on a German Empire that was at the height of its power yet riven with deep political social and cultural divisions This compelling study will appeal to historians and students of modern German and European history as well as those interested in obscenity law and class and gender relations in nineteenth century Europe
