From GCSEs to EBCs Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Education Committee, 2013 The Government's plans for replacing GCSEs with new English Baccalaureate Certificates in some subjects is trying to do too much too fast Introducing several fundamental changes at the same time and to a tight timetable will jeopardise the quality of the reforms and may threaten the stability of the wider exam system GCSEs need significant improvements in order to restore public confidence in the exam system but the Government still needs to make the case that the GCSE brand is so discredited that it is beyond repair MPs are also concerned about the impact of the changes on subjects outside the English Baccalaureate where students will be taking GCSEs for some time to come according to the Government's plans The report also questions how well the Government's proposals will serve lower attaining pupils who are often the most disadvantaged There is no evidence that the proposed changes will help to tackle under achievement or narrow the attainment gap between the richest and poorest students any more effectively than GCSEs The Government is also called upon to re think its plans for a Statement of Achievement specifically for lower attaining pupils MPs agree that changes are needed to the way in which exams are run but they raise serious concerns about franchising subjects to exam boards The report is critical of the Government's decision to abolish some GCSEs before publishing the outcomes of the National Curriculum Review and its proposed changes to the school accountability system MPs also note the wide ranging stakeholder opposition to many of the Government's proposals

Silvia, Azhar Iqbal, Sarah Watt House, 2016-12-14 Reality based modeling for today s unique economic recovery Economic Modeling in the Post Great Recession Era presents a more realistic approach to modeling using direct statistical applications to address the characteristics and trends central to current market behaviors This book s unique focus on the reality of today s markets makes it an invaluable resource for students and practitioners seeking a comprehensive guide to more accurate forecasting While most books treat the economy as if it were in a vacuum building models around idealized or perception biased behaviors this book deals with the economy as it currently stands in a state of recovery limited by financial constraints imperfect information and lags and disparities in price movements The authors identify how these characteristics impact various markets behaviors and quantify those behaviors using SAS as the primary statistical tool Today s economy bears a number of unique attributes that usual modeling methods fail to consider This book describes how to approach modeling based on real world observable data in order to make better informed decisions in today s markets Discover the three economic characteristics with the greatest impact on various markets Create economic models that mirror the current post recession reality Adopt statistical methods that identify and adapt to structural breaks and lags Factor real world imperfections into modeling for more accurate forecasting The past few years have shown a clear demarcation between policymakers forecasts and actual outcomes As the dust settles on the Great Recession after effects linger and impact our current recovery in ways that diverge from past experience and theoretical expectations Economic Modeling in the Post Great Recession Era provides comprehensive guidance grounded in reality for today s economic decision makers

Prestressed Members with External Fiber-Reinforced Polymer (FRP) Tendons Tiejiong Lou, Yanan Wu, Sergio M.R. Lopes, 2025-02-03 Prestressed Members with External Fiber Reinforced Polymer FRP Tendons Design Assessment and Modelling provides an overview of using FRPs including how to predict the short term and long term behavior of externally prestressed concrete or steel concrete composite members their second order effects and how to examine the effectiveness of using FRP tendons instead of steel tendons for external prestressing As external prestressing is considered to be one of the most powerful techniques in strengthening of existing structures this book provides a comprehensive resource on the topics covered The conventional use of prestressing steel is however naturally prone to corrosion The best strategy to solve completely the corrosion problem is the use of nonmetal materials instead of prestressing steel Fiber reinforced polymer FRP composites are ideal materials used for external tendons for their excellent corrosion resistance high strength and low weight Covers the use of FRP tendons when compared to those with external steel tendons including key design issues Addresses important topics in the field including the second order effects of immediate and sustained loads Examines the stress in external tendons moment redistribution linear transformation of external cables and prestress secondary moments Covers long term deformation prediction Reforming the United Nations [electronic resource] Joachim Müller, 2006 The United Nations is in need of reform There has always been widespread agreement that this is the case indeed throughout the 60 year history of the Organization Differences over the best cure reflect the political confrontation between its 191 member states The institution has been criticized to lack legitimacy to need accountability and to be inefficient with a bloated bureaucracy Recently allegations of mismanagement and corruption in the Oil for Food Program have led to a crisis of confidence The public debate followed reform initiatives for enlarging the Security Council achieving the Millennium Development Goals and establishing new collective mechanisms to protect human rights counter terrorism and respond to crimes against humanity Strengthening oversight governance and management practices aimed at introducing fundamental institutional changes The publication describes the reform process leading to the United Nations Summit in September 2005

The achievements remain disappointing with the failure to approve a grand bargain A number of recommendations are put forward to facilitate the reform process in the United Nations realising however that this will remain cumbersome and a lengthy step by step effort
