Teaching Global History Alan J. Singer,2012-04-27 Teaching Global History challenges prospective and beginning social studies teachers to formulate their own views about what is important to know in global history and why It explains how to organize the curriculum around broad social studies concepts and themes and student questions about humanity history and the contemporary world All chapters include lesson ideas a sample lesson plan with activity sheets primary source documents and helpful charts graphs photographs and maps High school students responses are woven in throughout Additional material corresponding to each chapter is posted online at http://people.hofstra.edu/alan_j_singer The traditional curriculum tends to highlight the Western heritage and to race through epochs and regions leaving little time for an in depth exploration of concepts and historical themes for the evaluation of primary and secondary sources and for students to draw their own historical conclusions Offering an alternative to such pre packaged textbook outlines and materials this text is a powerful resource for promoting thoughtful reflection and debate about what the global history curriculum should be and how to teach it

Environmental Narratives in the Huainanzi and the Anthropocene Matthew James Hamm,2024-08-06 Environmental Narratives in the Huainanzi and the Anthropocene analyzes the contemporary discourse of the Anthropocene using the Huainanzi an eastern Eurasian text from the second century BCE Written to preserve and strengthen the Han Empire 202 BCE 220 CE the Huainanzi describes a mode of rulership premised on periodizing the present as the end of history that domesticates humans and non humans Matthew James Hamm provides a contextualized reading of the Huainanzi's argument and uses it as a theoretical lens to read Anthropocene scholarship in the sciences social sciences and humanities Hamm argues that irrespective of the name or historical narrative used to describe it the idea of the Anthropocene as a new epoch not only lacks empirical evidence but also empowers the existing periodization of modernity to provide ideological support for environmentally destructive neoliberal structures rooted in Western European imperial orders By doing so the Anthropocene framework actively inhibits the transformative social change needed to address global environmental crises such as climate change and mass extinction Consequently this book rejects periodization as a conceptual framework for addressing those issues and advocates for greater scholarly engagement with environmental theories outside the European and Anglo American traditions such as the Huainanzi
