India Infrastructure Report 2012 Idfc Foundation, 2016-04-08 Today India's education sector remains a victim of poor policies restrictive regulations and orthodoxy. Despite being enrolled in schools, children are not learning adequately. Increasingly, parents are seeking alternatives through private inputs in school and tuition. Students are dropping out from secondary school in spite of high financial returns of secondary education and those who do complete it have inferior conceptual knowledge. Higher education is over regulated and under governed, keeping away serious private providers and reputed global institutes. Graduates from high schools, colleges and universities are not readily employable and few are willing to pay for skill development. Ironically, the Right to Education Act, if strictly enforced, will result in closure of thousands of non state schools and millions of poor children will be left without access to education. Eleventh in the series, India Infrastructure Report 2012 discusses challenges in the education sector, elementary, secondary, higher and vocational, and explores strategies for constructive change and opportunities for the private sector. It suggests that immediate steps are required to reform the sector to reap the benefits from India's demographic dividend due to a rise in the working age population. Result of a collective effort led by the IDFC Foundation, this Report brings together a range of perspectives from academics, researchers and practitioners committed to enhancing educational practices. It will be an invaluable resource for policymakers, researchers and corporates.

The Elementary Education System in India Rashmi Sharma, Vimala Ramachandran, 2012-04-27 This book focuses on the failure of elementary education since Independence, which is usually seen as the result of simplified phrases like lack of political will, because of poverty etc. This book looks at the system as a whole, infrastructure, quality of teaching, privatisation, nutritional incentives, curriculum. It contains samples from two states, namely Rajasthan and Andhra Pradesh.

Your First Education Venture Raman Bansal, 2021-11-20 Investment in human capital is a critical part of every country's strategy for development, even for India. With the increasing pace of technological advances and globalisation, rapidly taking over, India is all set to become the next hub for economic growth. Adding to this is a young population with an average age of 29 years, which puts India at an advantage. But is India's human capital prepared to face the challenge? The role of education is crucial in this aspect and it is high time that we rethink our approach towards necessary education policies. The focus here is on basic school education as it lays the foundation for an individual's future and career and is also facing some severe problems. For a long time, the education sector has been facing many challenges in terms of poor infrastructure, development, limited investment and a shortage of trained teachers. The need of the hour is to push potential investment in the education sector in order to build the digital infrastructure and provide quality education. Education in India has recently earned worldwide attention, not only from educationists but also from researchers, entrepreneurs, technologists, innovators, investors, international agencies and the government. Innumerable interventions are being designed and implemented on a daily basis to improve the quality of education in the country. Education is among the Top Five Fastest Growing Commodities in terms of consumer expenditure in India and consumption expenditure towards education is growing at a CAGR of 6.3%. With a growing disposable income the spending power of the Indian consumer is increasing day by day. Considering the importance given to education by an average Indian consumer coupled with the growing demand for advanced skills in the job market the proportion of individual income towards education is poised to increase going forward.
