Writing Instruction That Works Arthur N. Applebee, Judith A. Langer, 2015-04-25 Backed by solid research, Writing Instruction That Works answers the following question: What is writing instruction today and what can it be tomorrow? This up to date comprehensive book identifies areas of concern for the ways that writing is being taught in today's secondary schools. The authors offer far reaching direction for improving writing instruction that assist both student literacy and subject learning. They provide many examples of successful writing practices in each of the four core academic subjects: English, mathematics, science, and social studies history, along with guidance for meeting the Common Core standards. The text also includes sections on Technology and the Teaching of Writing and English Language Learners.

Evaluation Mark D. Shermis, Jill Burstein, 2013-07-18 This comprehensive interdisciplinary handbook reviews the latest methods and technologies used in automated essay evaluation AEE methods and technologies Highlights include the latest in the evaluation of performance based writing assessments and recent advances in the teaching of writing language testing cognitive psychology and computational linguistics This greatly expanded follow up to Automated Essay Scoring reflects the numerous advances that have taken place in the field since 2003 including automated essay scoring and diagnostic feedback

Each chapter features a common structure including an introduction and a conclusion. Ideas for diagnostic and evaluative feedback are sprinkled throughout the book. Highlights of the book's coverage include: The latest research on automated essay evaluation; Descriptions of the major scoring engines including the E-rater, the Intelligent Essay Assessor, the Intellimetric™ Engine, e-rater™ and LightSIDE; Applications of the uses of the technology including a large scale system used in West Virginia; A systematic framework for evaluating research and technological results; Descriptions of AEE methods that can be replicated for languages other than English as seen in the example from China; Chapters from key researchers in the field. The book opens with an introduction to AEEs and a review of the best practices of teaching writing along with tips on the use of automated analysis in the classroom. Next the book highlights the capabilities and applications of several scoring engines including the E-rater, the Intelligent Essay Assessor, the Intellimetric™ engine, e-rater™ and LightSIDE. Here readers will find an actual application of the use of an AEE in West Virginia: psychometric issues related to AEEs such as validity, reliability and scaling and the use of automated scoring to detect reader drift, grammatical errors, discourse coherence, quality and the impact of human rating on AEEs. A review of the cognitive foundations underlying methods used in AEE is also provided. The book concludes with a comparison of the various AEE systems and speculation about the future of the field in light of current educational policy. Ideal for educators, professionals, curriculum specialists and administrators responsible for developing writing programs or distance learning curricula, those who teach using AEE technologies, policy makers and researchers in education, writing, psychometrics, cognitive psychology and computational linguistics, this book also serves as a reference for graduate courses on automated essay evaluation taught in education, computer science, language, linguistics and cognitive psychology.

Chinese-Heritage Students in North American Schools Wen Ma, Guofang Li, 2016-03-02 This comprehensive look at Chinese heritage students' academic, sociocultural and emotional development in the public schools examines pertinent educational theories, complex even inconvenient realities, learning practices in and outside of schools and social, cultural and linguistic complications in their academic lives across diverse settings, homes and communities. Chinese heritage students are by far the largest ethnic group among Asian American and Asian Canadian communities, but it is difficult to sort out their academic performance because NAEP and most state/province databases lump all Asian students' results together. To better understand why Chinese heritage learners range from academic role models to problematic students in need of help, it is important to understand their hearts and minds beyond test scores. This book is distinctive in building this understanding by addressing the range of issues related to Chinese heritage K-12 students: languages, cultures, identities, academic achievements and challenges across North American schools. Writing Elena L. Grigorenko, Elisa Mambrino, David D. Preiss, 2012-05-04 This book captures the diversity and richness of writing as it relates to different forms of abilities, skills, competencies and expertise. Psychologists, educators, researchers and practitioners in neighboring areas are interested in exploring how writing develops and in what manner this development can be fostered, but they lack a handy unified and comprehensive source of information to satisfy their interest The goal of this book is to fill this void by reflecting on the phenomenon of writing from a developmental perspective It contains an integrated set of chapters devoted to issues of writing how writing develops how it is and should be taught and how writing paths of development differ across writing genres Specifically the book addresses typologies of writing pathways of the development of writing skills stages of the development of writing individual differences in the acquisition of writing skills writing ability and disability teaching writing and the development and demonstration of expertise in writing
