Chinese-Heritage Students in North American Schools Wen Ma, Guofang Li, 2016-03-02 This comprehensive look at Chinese heritage students' academic, sociocultural and emotional development in the public schools examines pertinent educational theories, complex even inconvenient realities, learning practices in and outside of schools and social, cultural and linguistic complications in their academic lives across diverse settings, homes and communities. Chinese heritage students are by far the largest ethnic group among Asian American and Asian Canadian communities, but it is difficult to sort out their academic performance because NAEP and most state/province databases lump all Asian students' results together. To better understand why Chinese heritage learners range from academic role models to problematic students in need of help, it is important to understand their hearts and minds beyond test scores. This book is distinctive in building this understanding by addressing the range of issues related to Chinese heritage K-12 students: languages, cultures, identities, academic achievements and challenges across North American schools. Writing Elena L.
