It is now evident that altered cellular metabolism is an integral effector of tumorigenesis that is intricately intertwined with cell signaling as well as genetic and epigenetic regulation of diverse tumor programs. Recognizing the dysregulation of cellular metabolism as an important aspect of tumor function has offered new potential direction to seek clinical benefit by providing targets for the development of novel therapeutics To date several small molecule inhibitors that target tumor or immune cell metabolism are being explored in active clinical trials as either preventive stand alone or adjuvant therapies for various malignancies Thus identifying critical metabolic vulnerabilities in pre neoplastic cells cancer cells and immune cells has direct and timely relevance for developing additional treatment and preventative strategies against cancer
