Treaties in Force 2012, 2013-03 Lists treaties and other international agreements of the United States on record in the Department of State on January 1 2012 which had not expired by their terms or which had not been denounced by the parties replaced or superseded by other agreements or otherwise definitely terminated Published annually Genetically Engineered Crops National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Board on Agriculture and Natural Resources, Committee on Genetically Engineered Crops: Past Experience and Future Prospects, 2017-01-28 Genetically engineered GE crops were first introduced commercially in the 1990s After two decades of production some groups and individuals remain critical of the technology based on their concerns about possible adverse effects on human health the environment and ethical considerations At the same time others are concerned that the technology is not reaching its potential to improve human health and the environment because of stringent regulations and reduced public funding to develop products offering more benefits to society While the debate about these and other questions related to the genetic engineering techniques of the first 20 years goes on emerging genetic engineering technologies are adding new complexities to the conversation Genetically Engineered Crops builds on previous related Academies reports published between 1987 and 2010 by undertaking a retrospective examination of the purported positive and adverse effects of GE crops and to anticipate what emerging genetic engineering technologies hold for the future This report indicates where there are uncertainties about the economic agronomic health safety or other impacts of GE crops and food and makes recommendations to fill gaps in safety assessments increase regulatory clarity and improve innovations in and access to GE technology Treaties in Force, 2014 Brazilian Agricultural Development, 1950-1985 Earl Richard Downes, 2025-01-22 Between 1950 and 1985 the United States provided an ongoing flow of resources to support Brazilian agriculture These were granted regardless of the orientation of the dominant political party in both countries This book documents the Cold War driven aid programs the private capital and investment from American philanthropists that laid the foundation for economic development to soar in Brazil through to today Earl Richard Downes explains how Brazil became a major catalyst for change with US assistance and a military government This rich history includes conflict over land titles displacement of farm laborers environmental damage as well as political and social turbulence The book breaks down how Brazil's military inserted itself into major components of the agricultural revolution including mechanization fertilization credit technical assistance research processing and marketing Chapters break down the global impact made through the frameworks and models used to develop Brazilian agriculture Downes also offers insight into the nation's first agricultural research corporation the Brazilian Agricultural Research Corporation EMBRAPA The Devil's Fruit Dvera I. Saxton, 2021-02-12 The Devil's Fruit uses anthropology's tool kit to examine farmworkers embodiment of toxic pesticides and social and workplace relationships in California's agricultural industry Rather than stopping at description and critique

Saxton explores how activist ethnographic methods and ethics align conflict and support ongoing struggles for farmworker health and environmental justice

Nigeria's Resource Wars Egodi Uchendu, 2021-03-02 Nigeria's Resource Wars reflects on the diversity of conflicts over access to and allocation of resources in Nigeria. From the devastating effects of crude oil exploration in the Niger Delta to desertification caused by climate change and illegal gold mining in Zamfara to mention a few, Nigeria faces new dimensions of resource-related struggles. The ravaging effects of these resource conflicts between crop farmers and Fulani herders in Nigeria's Middlebelt and states across Southern Nigeria call for urgent scholarly interventions with the Fulani cattle breeders onslaught altering the histories of many Nigerian families through deaths, loss of homes and investments and permanent physical incapacity. Currently, there is an almost total breakdown of interethnic relations with political commentators acknowledging that Nigeria has never been so divided as it presently is in its history. The struggles have now degenerated into kidnaps, armed robbery and incessant targeted and random killings across the country, compounding the already complex problem of insecurity in Nigeria. The chapters in this volume engage with these issues, presenting the different arguments on resource conflicts in Nigeria. They draw insights from similar conflicts in Nigeria's colonial, post-independence past and events from around the world to proffer possible solutions to resource-related confrontations in Africa. By offering a collection of different intellectual perspectives on resource conflicts in Nigeria, this volume will be an important reference material for understanding the diversity of thought patterns that underpin the struggle and policy approaches towards resolving conflict situations in Africa. This volume will be of considerable interest to scholars of Africa, researchers in the humanities, social sciences and conflict studies, and policymakers interested in understanding the resource crisis in Africa.

Treaties in Force United States Department of State - Office of the Legal Adviser, 2014-04-08 Treaties in Force is prepared by the Department of State for the purpose of providing information on treaties and other international agreements to which the United States has become a party and which are carried on the records of the Department of State as being in force as of its stated publication date, January 1, 2013. With respect to treaties and agreements in force as of January 1, 2013, information regarding status is up to date as of the date indicated as authoritative. The term treaty, as a matter of U.S. constitutional law, denotes international agreements made by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate in accordance with Article II, section 2 of the Constitution of the United States. In addition to such treaties, this publication covers international agreements in force that have been concluded by the Executive pursuant to or in accordance with existing legislation or a prior treaty, b) subject to congressional approval or implementation, and or c) under and in accordance with the President's constitutional powers. Treaties in Force is arranged in two sections. Section 1 includes bilateral treaties and other international agreements listed by country or other international entity, with subject headings under each entry. Arrangements with territorial possessions of a country appear at the end of the entry for that country. In some cases, treaties and international agreements applicable to a territory prior to its independence are included. in the entry for that country on the basis of its assumption of treaty obligations upon becoming independent as noted at the beginning of the entry for that country For convenience some treaties and agreements concluded with countries whose name or statehood status has changed continue to be listed under the name in use at the time the agreement was concluded if the title of the treaty or agreement has not been formally amended Section 2 lists multilateral treaties and other international agreements to which the United States is a party arranged by subject The depositary is the authoritative source for a current list of parties and information on other matters concerning the status of the agreement and status information often changes Information is provided on the depositary for the agreement in question and contact information including an Internet site is provided for the depositary where available Bridging the gap between nutrition and agriculture in Telangana State, India Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, The Global Forum for Rural Advisory Services, 2022-03-18 Equipping agricultural extension and advisory services with nutrition knowledge competencies and skills is essential to promote nutrition sensitive agriculture This report presents the results of an assessment of capacity within agricultural extension and advisory services undertaken in Telangana State India with the global capacity needs assessment GCNA methodology developed by FAO and GFRAS The methodology is available online at <https://doi.org/10.4060/cb2069en>
