Developing and Validating an Analytic Rating Scale for Large-Scale EFL Writing Assessment Shaoyan Zou, 2025-10-21

The debate between holistic and analytical scoring methods in second language assessment has long persisted. This book addresses the effectiveness and validity of the holistic rating scale used in China's high stakes CET-4 College English Test Band 4 writing tests via systematic case study analysis. Using a multi-phase mixed methods research methodology, the author creates and validates a new analytical rating scale that redefines and operationalizes critical aspects of writing assessment. Through extensive empirical evidence including rater cognition studies, expert reviews, and Rasch-based descriptor calibration, the author reveals the limitations of holistic scoring systems and demonstrates the necessity and validity of analytical methods. The author convincingly argues that this new scoring method translates to a more transparent, fair, and diagnostic model for large-scale EFL writing assessment. This book is an essential reference for researchers in applied linguistics, language assessment, and English language education. It also offers valuable insights for assessment specialists, test developers, and language policymakers seeking more effective evaluation frameworks.

their performance usually by assigning a score or grade to it. It takes a historical view of how assessment developers have made those choices, how contemporary practices emerged, and of alternative techniques that have risen and fallen over time. The three sections each tackle one of these choices. The first considers the social functions that define L2 writing and assessment; the second relates how assessment tasks have adapted to changing conceptions of languages writing and assessment; and the third explores how scoring systems have evolved. Each section brings the reader up to date with current issues confronting writing assessment both in large scale testing and in language classrooms, before considering the new opportunities and challenges of the digital age. This book will be of interest to students, scholars, and practitioners in language assessment, language education, and applied linguistics.

Language Assessment in Practice Lyle Bachman, Palmer Adrian, 2022-11-09. Language Assessment in Practice enables the reader to become competent in the design, development, and use of language assessments. Authors Lyle Bachman and Adrian Palmer have developed an Assessment Use Argument (AUA) as a rigorous justification of how language assessment is used. The authors also demonstrate how the AUA guides the process of test development in the real world.

Processes and Process-Oriented in Foreign Language Teaching and Learning Wai Meng Chan, Kwee Nyet Chin, Masanori Nagami, Titima Suthiwan, 2011-10-27. There can be no products without processes. Though this statement may seem to be no more than an overused generalization, it encapsulates the undoubted importance of processes and process-oriented approaches in language teaching and learning. In foreign language education in recent decades, researchers and practitioners alike are increasingly focusing their attention on 1) the learner as the active subject of learning and the internal processes that constitute his/her learning, leading to the development of communicative competence; 2) teaching approaches, curricula, and materials that reflect this view of language learning; and 3) other factors such as the sociocultural context, social interactions, and discourse, and individual learner characteristics and differences. The theme of this book reflects this paradigm shift, and the papers included here, from the disciplines of foreign language education and second language acquisition, provide vital insights into processes in curriculum planning, teaching methodology, teacher education, and professional development, language acquisition, language discourse, classroom instruction, and interactions, the development of language skills and learning strategies, and language learning motivation.

TEACHING WRITING IN SECOND AND FOREIGN LANGUAGE CLASSROOMS Jessica Williams, 2005. Provides research-based information and practical advice to instructors who teach writing to second and foreign language learners. This book is suitable for a basic methods course or a course on second or foreign language writing. It is also useful as a preparation course for ESL or foreign language teaching assistants.

Testing for Language Teachers Arthur Hughes, 2003. This second edition remains the most practical guide to testing language. It has a new chapter on testing young learners.

The Writings of Lyle F. Bachman James Enos

Purpura, Antony John Kunnan, 2024-07-31 As one of the most recognized names in the fields of language assessment and applied linguistics Lyle F Bachman has produced a high volume of scholarly articles and books in the field of language assessment These writings have strongly influenced the discipline and over the last three decades have played an uncontested role in shaping the field as we know it today Until now Bachman's work has been spread across various mediums and not existed in one place The Writings of Lyle F Bachman is the first book to assemble Bachman's work into a single comprehensive volume The collection is composed of seven major sections each beginning with an introduction by the editors to provide context for the papers The sections cover some of the most complex topics in the field including validity and validation the effects of test task characteristics interfaces between language testing and second language acquisition and epistemological issues in applied linguistics The collection concludes with a state of the art paper and insightful reflections about the field of language assessment The collection traces how Bachman's ideas and research insights have evolved throughout the years Given Bachman's strong impact on the field of language assessment this volume presents not only a collection of the writings but also gives an overview of the ongoing issues and debates in the field This book will be useful to both researchers and graduate students in the areas of language assessment and applied linguistics Nonverbal Delivery in Speaking Assessment Mingwei Pan, 2015-11-27 With an argument for embedding nonverbal delivery in speaking assessment as a point of departure this book seeks to validate a proposed rating scale for incorporating nonverbal delivery and other conventional dimensions into speaking assessment with a mixed methods approach To illustrate the indispensable role of nonverbal delivery in speaking assessment the book particularly includes snapshots of test takers de facto nonverbal delivery which allow their respective levels to be investigated in a microscopic manner Case Studies in Foreign Language Placement Thom Hudson, Martyn Clark, 2008 Although most language programs make placement decisions on the basis of placement tests there is surprisingly little published about different contexts and systems of placement testing The present volume contains case studies of placement programs in foreign language programs at the tertiary level across the United States The different programs span the spectrum from large programs servicing hundreds of students annually to small language programs with very few students The contributions to this volume address such issues as how the size of the program presence or absence of heritage learners and population changes affect language placement decisions Chinese as a Second Language Assessment Dongbo Zhang, Chin-Hsi Lin, 2017-04-12 This book brings together 13 original research papers that address emerging issues in the assessment of Chinese as a Second Language CSL in five major areas including standards in CSL assessment development of CSL tests assessment of diverse knowledge and skills computer supported assessment and CSL assessment in relation to instruction and teachers assessment competence It goes beyond the psychometric testing of Chinese and provides cutting edge examinations of the interfaces of assessment with sociology of language acquisition pedagogy and modern technologies as well as teacher education Given its unique features and broad range of topics the book offers an intriguing and valuable resource not only for scholars and researchers but also teacher educators and assessment practitioners who are directly or indirectly involved in CSL assessment Technology-Enhanced Learning and Linguistic Diversity Patrick-André Mather, 2020-11-26 Drawing on research and hands on experience this book includes contributions which draw on linguistic research on 2nd and 3rd language acquisition as well as case studies of specific challenges in teaching content courses in various disciplines to offer a roadmap of how educators might facilitate the learning of their bilingual student cohort Current Index to Journals in Education , 1997 Taking Stock of German Studies in the United States Rachel J. Halverson, Carol Anne Costabile-Heming, 2015 Despite cuts in the past decade enrollments in US German programs have increased modestly a fact that surely has to do with the importance of Germany and its language on the world stage The contributors to this volume examine the factors shaping German language study in the new millennium highlighting how creative innovative inspired approaches have allowed German to weather many of its challenges The volume will be of interest to scholars teachers and students of German who are committed to invigorating its study in the United States
