Featuring a 10 Traits Audit for use by schools or districts, this book provides principals and administrators with tools and processes to facilitate the development of each trait. Snapshots of each trait in actual schools and districts. Reflections from teachers and administrators who have helped create effective schools. Observations on the school improvement process from noted thinkers, theorists, and scholars. Examples of documents, forms, and resources used in effective schools. By nurturing these traits in their schools, educational leaders can build coherent instructional programs and create schools of equity and excellence.

Assessing the Common Core: What's Gone Wrong--And How to Get Back on Track Robert C. Calfee, Kathleen M. Wilson, 2016-02-02 From distinguished educators, this book imagines what our schools could look like if an authentic vision of the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) were put in place and thoughtfully critiques how and why implementation has faltered. The authors outline a curriculum framework that focuses on student-based inquiry and the use of formative assessment to monitor and guide student learning. They provide workable, innovative alternatives to the packaged instructional programs and summative tests that have come to be associated with the English language arts (ELA) standards. Vignettes of diverse schools and districts highlight a range of successful approaches to making the CCSS work.

Advocating for English Learners Diane Staehr Fenner, 2013-09-18 English learners (ELs) are the fastest growing segment of the K-12 population. But ELs and their families, who are in the process of learning English and navigating an often unfamiliar education system, may not have a voice powerful enough to articulate their needs. Consequently, all teachers and administrators must advocate for this all-important, diverse group of students who will become tomorrow's workforce.
