The Political Economy of Reform in Post-Mao China Elizabeth J. Perry, Christine Wong, 2020-10-26 In December 1978 the Chinese Communist Party announced dramatic changes in policy for both agriculture and industry that seemed to repudiate the Maoist road to socialism in favor of certain capitalist tendencies The motives behind these changes the nature of the reforms and their effects upon the economy and political life of countryside and city are here analyzed by five political scientists and five economists Their assessments of ongoing efforts to implement the new policies provide a timely survey of what is currently happening in China Part One delineates the content of agricultural reforms including decollectivization and the provisions for households to realize private profits and examines their impact on production marketing peasant income family planning local leadership and rural violence Part Two examines the evolution of industrial reforms centering on enterprise profit retention and their impact on political conflict resource allocation investment material and financial flows industrial structure and composition of output Through all ten chapters one theme is conspicuous the multiple interactions between politics and economics in China's new directions since the Cultural Revolution

The Solidarity Economy Tehila Sasson, 2024-05-28 The untold story of the role of humanitarian NGOs in building the neoliberal order after empire After India gained independence in 1947 Britain reinvented its role in the global economy through nongovernmental aid organizations Utilizing existing imperial networks and colonial bureaucracy the nonprofit sector sought an ethical capitalism one that would equalize relationships between British consumers and Third World producers as the age of empire was ending The Solidarity Economy examines the role of nonstate actors in the major transformations of the world economy in the postwar era showing how British NGOs charted a path to neoliberalism in their pursuit of ethical markets Between the 1950s and 1990s nonprofits sought to establish an alternative to Keynesianism through their welfare and development programs Encouraging the fair trade of commodities and goods through microfinance consumer boycotts and corporate social responsibility these programs emphasized decentralization privatization and entrepreneurship Tehila Sasson tells the stories of the activists economists politicians and businessmen who reimagined the marketplace as a workshop for global reform She reveals how their ideas though commonly associated with conservative neoliberal policies were part of a nonprofit driven endeavor by the liberal left to envision markets as autonomous and humanizing spaces facilitating ethical relationships beyond the impersonal realm of the state Drawing on dozens of newly available repositories from nongovernmental international national and business archives The Solidarity Economy reconstructs the political economy of these markets from handicrafts and sugar to tea and coffee shedding critical light on the postimperial origins of neoliberalism

2006 SIM Book Award Selling to the Masses Marjorie L. Hilton, 2012-01-08 In Selling to the Masses Marjorie L. Hilton presents a captivating history of consumer culture in Russia from the 1880s to the early 1930s. She highlights the critical role of consumerism as a vehicle for shaping class and gender identities, modernity, urbanism, and as a mechanism of state power in the transition from tsarist autocracy to Soviet socialism. Beginning in the late nineteenth century, Russia witnessed a rise in mass production, consumer goods, advertising, and new retail venues such as arcades and department stores. These mirrored similar developments in other European countries and reflected a growing quest for leisure activities, luxuries, and a modern lifestyle. As Hilton reveals, retail commerce played a major role in developing Russian public culture; it affected celebrations of religious holidays, engaged diverse groups of individuals, defined behaviors and rituals of city life, inspired new interpretations of masculinity and femininity, and became a visible symbol of state influence and provision. Through monarchies, revolution, civil war, and monumental changes in the political sphere, Russia's distinctive culture of consumption was contested and recreated. Leaders of all stripes continued to look to the commerce of exchange as a key element in appealing to the masses, garnering political support and promoting a modern nation. Hilton follows the evolution of retailing and retailers alike from crude outdoor stalls to elite establishments through the competition of private versus state-run stores during the NEP and finally to a system of total state control, indifferent workers, rationing, and shortages under a consolidating Stalinist state.

information technology specialists including students and graduates Conservation and Management of Transnational Tuna Fisheries Robin Allen, James A. Joseph, Dale Squires, 2010-02-16

Conservation and Management of Transnational Tuna Fisheries reviews and synthesizes the existing literature focusing on rights based management and the creation of economic incentives to manage transnational tuna fisheries. Transnational tuna fisheries are among the most important fisheries in the world and tuna commissions are increasingly shifting toward this approach. Comprehensively covering the subject, Conservation and Management of Transnational Tuna Fisheries summarizes global experience and offers practical applications for applying rights based management and the creation of economic incentives, addressing potential problems as well as the total level of capacity. This reference work is divided into four parts, beginning with an overview of the book, including the issues property rights and rights based management. The subsequent sections address issues arising with property rights, discuss bycatch and cover compliance, enforcement, trade measures and politics. Written by an expert team of international authors, Conservation and Management of Transnational Tuna Fisheries will appeal to social and fisheries scientists and fishery managers in universities and research institutions, government and non governmental organizations, fisheries management bodies, members of the fishing industry and international institutions.
